REPORT RUSSIA WARNS GERMANY

2 DEMOCRATIC SENATORS TIFF OVER AID BILL

Brown of Michigan Says Law Will Avoid 'Prussianizing' American Economy.

DEBATES WITH CHAVEZ

New Mexican Asks What's Use of Winning War If We Lose Democracy.

WASHINGTON—Senate debate on the lease-lend bill entered its 10th day today with two Democratic senators—Brown, Mich., and Chavez, N. Mex.—clashing on the issue of whether the measure means war or peace.

Supporting the British aid proposal, Brown declared that a German victory would mean that America must either face the Nazi armed might in battle or "Prussianize" this nation with a vast military machine which may embrace 10,000,000 fighting men. Aid to embattled England might forestall this, he asserted.

Chavez, breaking with the administration, charged that "this is not a peace bill, it is a bill of war," and asked "what will it profit us if we win the war and lose our soul—democracy?"

The declarations were made in prepared speeches as senate tempers grew ragged and tongues were sharpened. Democratic leaders sought to speed a vote while foes of the bill refused to curtail their speeches.

Talk of a filibuster was revived after Sen. Nye (R-N. D.,) held the senate floor for six hours yesterday with an attack on the bill. He previously had spoken for two hours.

Brown leaped to defense of the bill after Sen. Wheeler (D-Mont.,) had assailed President Roosevelt's declaration that peace aims cannot be stated before Germany is beaten, and Nye charged both Mr. Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie with betraying the nation in campaign promises.

Brown conceded that the nation may either face war or peace if the lease-lend bill is passed but added "defeat of Britain is more likely to cause trouble for us than is victory for Britain."

"If England does not win or achieve a negotiated peace, I say

Judge Finds Phone Company Guilty of Contempt of Court

William J. Donough and Dudley Donough, farmers of near Butler, won a four-year battle today to keep the Mansfield Telephone company from erecting a line across their property.

The company was found guilty of contempt by Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston who delayed sentence for 90 days while the firm takes steps to re-route its lines away from the Donough farm.

Judge Huston granted an injunction four years ago to restrain the company from building a line across the farm and his decision later was upheld by the Ohio supreme court when the telephone company appealed.

In court today, however, attorneys for the Donoughs said the telephone company erected a line while the farm owners weren't looking.

After finding the company guilty of contempt, Judge Huston ordered company officials to arrange to build a new line to avoid the Donough property.

Attys. C. J. Kalbfleisch and W. H. McClellan represented the plaintiffs and Henkel and Gong were counsel for the telephone company.

Seven Die as Airliner Crashes In Georgia; Rickenbacker Saved

Big Ship Hits Pine Thicket

Nine Injured; Rescuers Work Through Morning Removing Bodies From Cabin; Passenger Calls Help.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The office of Rep. William D. Byron (D., Md.) today announced that his body had been identified among the dead in the crash of the Eastern Airlines plane near Jonesboro, Ga. Flags on the capitol and congressional office buildings immediately were lowered to half staff.

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTA—Dropping away from a radio beam, an Eastern Air Lines plane ripped itself to pieces in a pine thicket near here today, killing seven and injuring nine others, including famed Flier Eddie Rickenbacker.

The 14-passenger sleeper banked against a wooded knoll shortly after 1 a. m. (EST) while attempting a beam landing after a run from New York but searchers didn't find the wreckage until shortly after dawn when an injured passenger made his way to a phone to call for help.

Five miles from the airport and 700 yards from the nearest dirt road, rescue work was painfully slow and it was not until mid-morning that seven bodies had been removed from the smashed cabin and nine injured taken to hospitals.

At one time divisions operations Manager L. H. Pabst told newsmen that the death list was ten but a re-check of hospitals and undertakers showed only seven dead, although two or three of the injured were in critical condition.

After nearly an hour of work, Rickenbacker, who is president of EAL, was pulled out. He was alive and conscious but his back seemed badly crushed.

The first seven known to have escaped alive were identified to newspapermen as N. Hasnell of the Bronx, N. Y., R. B. Sewell, Atlanta, J. S. Rosenfeld, New Orleans, C. M. Tappen, New York, George Fineburg, New York, P. L. Brady, Hollis, N. Y., and Mrs. H. A. Littledale, Short Hills, N. J. All suffered from injuries or shock.

Still among those dead or unaccounted for were H. A. Littledale, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, Rep. William D. Byron (D.-Md.) of Williamsport, Md., and the crew, Capt. James Perry, Co-Pilot L. E. Thomas and Steward Clarence Moore, all of New York.

The plane fell miles from a paved highway and about 700 yards from the nearest dirt road on which ambulances could travel, so that the injured had to be carried this distance across a muddy cornfield.

Rosenfeld was thrown clear of the plane and made his way about 20 yards in the darkness, where he fell into a ditch. Injured and shocked, he lay there until dawn when he made his way to the farm home of C. C. Sherman near Morrow which is about five miles

CIO Asks Wage Boost; Factory Manager Calls Action 'Dismal Failure.'

(By Associated Press)

The Bethlehem steel mill at Lackawanna, N. Y., important production source of defense armaments, was hit by a strike today which in its earliest stages brought a flare of violence.

CIO strikers deployed in a two-mile picket line before the seven gates of the huge plant. Early today there were reports that clubs had swung against the windows and bodies of automobiles which carried employes toward their jobs in the mill.

The strike fell promptly on a previously announced deadline, 9 p. m. Wednesday, after an unproductive conference between the steel workers organizing committee (CIO) and representatives of the national defense commission and the federal counciliation service.

The Lackawanna mill employs 14,000 men, and union leaders declared the strike might spread soon to other Bethlehem plants, at Bethlehem, Johnstown, and Pottstown, Pa. At Bethlehem alone there are 21,000 employes.

Three hours after the strike broke, John Riffe, an assistant director of SWOC, called it "one of the most effective I've ever seen." He said only foremen and superintendents remained inside the plant after most of the 4,000

POLICE HUNT 2 MISSING BOYS

Madison High Pupils Leave Note Saying 'Don't Try To Hunt For Us.'

A hastily penciled note was the only clue today to the whereabouts of two young Mansfielders, both Madison high school pupils, who left their homes yesterday.

"Bill and I are leaving," the message said. "Don't try to hunt for us for we are not coming back. When we make some money we'll send you some."

C. L. Davis, 159 Gibson avenue, told police he found the note when he came home yesterday evening.

He said it had been written by his nephew, Jack D. Amos, 17, who has made his home with him. He told officers the boy was accompanied by a companion, William Folmer, 176 South Diamond street.

Davis said the youths had left school about 2 p. m. and had come home and packed their clothes. He told police the youths might visit young Amos' relatives in Hammond, Ind.

Police broadcast a description of the pair and requested Ohio and Indiana authorities to search for them.

Mackey, Lutz Agree on Plan To Tighten Up on Paroles

A tightening of regulations governing the parole of Mansfield reformatory inmates in Richland county grew out of a conference in Mansfield yesterday between William K. Mackey, chief of the Ohio division of probation and parole, and Prosecutor Harold Lutz who had sparred by mail for several days.

The officials agreed on the continued parole of inmates from other counties to persons in Richland county and a closer cooperation between authorities here and the parole division.

Complying with a rquest from Lutz, Mackey said he would not permit a colored inmate from Cincinnati to be paroled to a Mansfield woman as the inmate had requested.

In a letter to Mackey last Friday, Lutz opposed the parole on grounds of the inmate's record and

Balkans Hear Reds Protest Troop Moves

Believe Opposition to Crossing of Bulgaria Based on Talks at Ankara; Air Blows Traded; British Diplomat Vanishes.

(By Associated Press)

Balkan diplomats heard today that Soviet Russia has raised objections to the passage of German troops through Bulgaria as dispatches from Belgrade said the Yugoslav general staff ordered a speed-up in defense preparations.

Yugoslavia was said to fear now that German armies massed in Rumania might attempt to invade Greece through Yugoslavia instead of Bulgaria.

Yugoslavia's Foreign Minister Alksander Cincar-Marcovic was called back unexpectedly to Belgrade from Budapest, capital of Hungary, where he had arrived only yesterday to sign a Yugoslav-Hungarian treaty of friendship.

Subsequently it was announced that the treaty had been ratified.

Diplomatic quarters in Budapest heard that his abrupt recall was connected with "impending events of importance between the Axis and Yugoslavia.

Long the traditional protector of her "little Slav brothers" in Bulgaria, Soviet Russia may have decided to stiffen her attitude toward a German thrust into southeast Europe as a result of conferences now going on in Ankara, Turkey.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's envoy to the U. S. S. R., flew to Ankara today as Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Gen. Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British imperial general staff, conferred with Turkish leaders—presumably on moves to counter any Nazi attack on Greece.

Sir Stafford, it was believed, may be carrying news of Russia's attitude if Turkey should resolve to fight. In the past, Russia has been represented as exerting strong pressure on Turkey to remain neutral.

Relations between Britain and Bulgaria were further strained by the mysterious disappearance of a member of the British legation staff in Sofia, said to have been kidnaped "by Bulgarian police at the behest of the Germans."

British quarters said the incident might lead to a break in diplomatic relations between Bulgaria and Britain.

A claim by Hitler's high command yesterday that German mechanized troops had met and defeated British forces in the Libyan desert was countered by British general headquarters in Cairo today. A communique said British mechanized forces "drove

BELIEVE NAZIS CONTROL ITALY

U. S. Convinced Nazi Secret Police Rule Country; New Threat Seen.

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(INS Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — The United States government has reason to believe that control of Italy has passed into German hands, it was learned from an unimpeachable source today.

While Premier Mussolini still remains head of the Italian government, actual control of the country has passed into the hands of the German secret police and military authorities, according to information received by this government.

This development is considered by authoritative quarters here to be one of the most momentous events of the entire European war. It is expected to have far-reaching effects on the Mediterranean situation and already has threatened to check the victorious advance of the British Nile army in Libya.

Many thousands of German troops are said to have arrived in Italy, ostensibly to reinforce the Italian armies in Albania and Africa. Thousands of German secret police also have been sent into the country for the alleged purpose of protecting transportation of the German troops and to guard the

Two Richland county members of Battery D of the Ohio National Guard at Camp Shelby who decided they wanted to extend their leave of absence were held in the city jail today for return to camp where they are accused of being absent without leave.

Women's Relief Corps Has Program on Washington; Delano Auxiliary Initiates Two; Circle Has Dessert.

MRS. KATHERINE SATTLER served as installing officer last night when Mrs. Mary Somers was installed as junior vice president, Mrs. Clara Hicks as musician, Mrs. Alta Ruby as color bearer at the meeting which was held in the Memorial building by the McLaughlin Women's Relief corps No. 26. Mrs. Sarah Case was in charge, and department general orders No. 5 were read. These were written by the late past president, Mrs. Elizabeth Hartung.

In her honor a memorial was planned to carry out the project she had started for the year. The charter was draped for her and for the late Mrs. Jennie Downend, a past president of the corps. The resolution was read by Miss Lenora Horn, Mrs. Emma Hancock and Mrs. Sattler, resolutions committee.

It was announced that Mrs. F. Jane Neff was advanced to the post of department senior vice president, and orders were read from the new department president, Marie W. Lynch.

Mrs. Faye Stofer, patriotic instructor, conducted a program on Washington in which each officer participated. She also reported on participating in a program on the two February presidents, at Bowman school.

The evening prize went to Mrs. Arbie Kime. The next meeting will be held March 12.

Two new members, Mrs. Marie Gatton and Mrs. Linna Reynolds, were welcomed into the Delano auxiliary last night when Mrs. Bessie Ricks, president, conducted a routine business meeting. Reports were made by standing committees.

Arrangements were made to hold a dance March 15 for members and friends, with Mrs. Mary Gerhart in charge of arrangements. Tentative plans for a card party were also made. The next meeting will be held March 12 after which a poke lunch will be served. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

GRADING AIDS BEEF BUYERS

Five Classes of the Nation's Favorite Meat Listed and Described.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Christine Carlson, extension nutritionist at Ohio State university, claims that by following markings it is now easier to judge beef, which the nutritionist asserts is the nation's favorite meat.

Beef is government stamped in five grades—prime, choice, good, commercial and utility.

They classify these grades:

Prime — the highest grade but because it contains so much fat is sold almost exclusively to hotels and restaurants

Choice—the highest grade at most retail markets, has a moderately thick covering of white fat with the lean meat colored from pale to deep red, considerably "marbled" with fat.

Good—the grade for shoppers who want quality beef at moderate prices. It has a slightly thin fat covering and is about the same as choice, although with less "marbling."

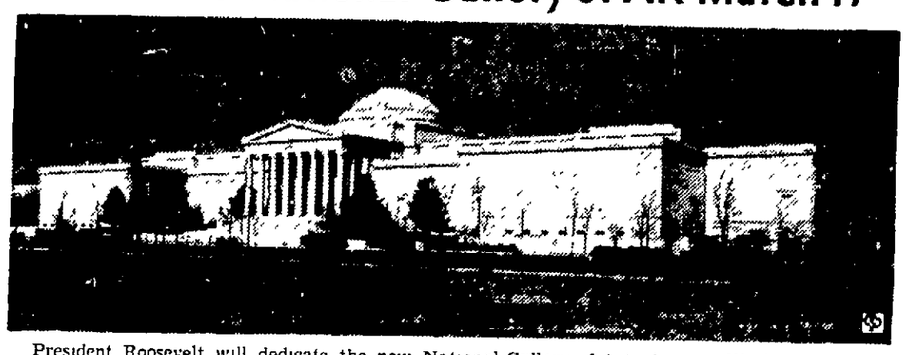
Commercial—not as good for broiling or roasting as other grades, but good for pot roasts, stews and meat pies It has little fat.

Utility—the lowest grade customarily sold at retail for pot roasts, stews and other economical meat dishes. It has a thin fat covering grayish white or yellow in color and the cut lean surface is usually soft and watery with no "marbling."

PRACTICALLY MACHINE GUN

DANVILLE, Va —(AP)— Detective Sergeant Roy Thurston averaged almost 11 birds per shot in a recent hunt. The hunting ground was Main street, the game was starlings and he used a shotgun with No. 10 shot.

Dedicate National Gallery of Art March 17



President Roosevelt will dedicate the new National Gallery of Art, above, in Washington, March 17 The gallery was made possible by money bequeathed by a former secretary of the treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, who also left a large collection of paintings and statuary for the new building.

British Experiment With Seaweed to Find New Dishes.

GLASGOW, Scotland—(AP)—Seaweed soup, stems of sea-tangle and sea moss jelly, swilled down with carrageen may not seem an intelligible menu to the average man, but they are an example of what Scotland and Wales can turn out in an emergency.

Londoners got a taste of these "delicacies" at an exhibition of Scottish and Welsh dishes suited to wartime menus. The tasters politely praised the strange wartime food but confessed that roast beef and mutton were more to their liking.

Success of the dishes, made from dulse, an edible seaweed, depends on the cooking and flavoring. Slokan, one of the favorites, has to be washed, steeped, stewed in milk and deprived of its bitterness with judicious pinches of bicarbonate of soda. Then pepper, vinegar and lemon juice are added according to taste.

The cost of treating the average case of pneumonia is $167.60, a New York medical survey shows.

Sport Podge by REX HESS

Harry Mehock has sounded the call for Tyger track aspirants, and admits he was ready to hit the aspirin when 73 would-be scanty-clads responded.

Right now the Mansfield High track coach says he doesn't know one from another of his scanty-pants neophytes, or at least not many ones from others.

For the past several days he's been gathering the boys together and telling them what it's all about. Now he's planning to gather himself together and find out what his squad's all about, by checking the events they expect to enter.

About Monday, Mehock expects to set up hurdles in the somewhat classic halls of Mansfield High and start his timber toppers through their paces.

This extra curricular activity of course will be after school. The student body and faculty might want to use the halls during school hours.

Harry is considering placing signs up along the runway for the benefit of teachers: "Travel at your own risk."

He recalls that one of his hurdlers once ran into a teacher and "bounced her for a 20-foot loop. We don't want to be bumping off our teachers," Mehock says. "After all, we do have some nice ones on the faculty."

Napoleon and Wellington, meeting face to face before their main go at Waterloo, would not have been more surprised than Bellville and Butler cagers as they took the Mansfield High gym floor Tuesday afternoon for pre-tournament practice.

Coaches Miley of Bellville and Hall of Butler had intended stealing a march on each other by secret practice on the big tournament floor.

They had made their arrangements with different members of the Mansfield athletic department, so Mansfield coaches were just as surprised as the Bellvilles and the Butlers when both teams showed up.

Mindful of the famous neighborhood feud between the two schools, one and all were fearful of an "incident" bordering on riot. But the boys had left their shillalahs at home. Peace, it's wonderful!

* * *

Grinned Miley to Hall, and Hall to Miley as they shook hands: "We might as well settle this thing right now."

But they didn't. The paying customers weren't on hand.

Nick Weber, the old Mansfield Tyger, who has been a member of Tennessee's three "bowl" grid teams, has just been elected captain of the Tennessee ball club for this spring.

Said one Tennessee paper, in reporting the election of the first sacker: Nick is the most dangerous hitter on Coach Johnny Mauer's team."

That's taking the old cut in there, Nick.

TONY TAKES OVER

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—With Manager Bill Terry, 25 players and former New York Mayor Jimmy Walker in Havana for the three-game series with Brooklyn, Tony Cincinello was in charge of the Giants' stay-at-homes. The Jersey City pilot, in this capacity, will act as a one-man welcoming committee in case any of the holdouts, notably Catcher Hank Danning, decide to show up.

LOMBARDI STICKS TO HOLDOUT ROLE

OAKLAND, Cal.—(INS)—Big Ernie Lombardi, Cincinnati Red catcher, today grimly clung to his holdout role, announcing "if they don't want to pay me, then they can trade or sell me." It was his answer to a "sign or else" ultimatum issued by Warren C. Giles, president of the Reds.

Bissman's Set Record For Season

Burn Up Alleys With 3,243 For Two-Season Mark.

Hotter than hot were those flaming Bissman Birdie Brand bowlers last night as they smoked up the Meder alleys in the City A league for a new total score record for the past two seasons, and tied an individual total mark for the 1940-41 race.

Bissman's blazed to a 3,243 total on games of 1,007-1,162-1,875 and if that isn't bowling it will have to do until something better comes along.

Johnny Leppo rolled 249-258-258—721 to tie the season's high total set by Walt Fensch. Art Hullborn, the old 300 hitter, also smacked the maples for better than 700 with 213-258-242—713.

Two other members of the team rolled over 600, Dale Cleckner checking in with 177-239-216—632, and Sonny Meder with 168-219-220—607. Winnie Cleckner had 200-188-183—571.

Heat generated by the Bissman quintet spread to other teams. In the City A loop, E. Whitcomb of Olds had a 617 total, Art Thomas of Orange St. Cafe 610, and Shrem Wentz of Lutz Lumber 609.

* * *

Westinghouse A league also felt the flame as Carl Phillipon led the loop with 203-213-227—643, and Bill Huck turned in 209-208-213—630. Box Shop had high game of Greenstein, B'nai Brith center, was high scorer with a total of 13. Isaly's won on a forfeit from the Phalanx cagers.

TRADE RUMORED

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — (AP) — Now that Manager Casey Stengel has Babe Dahlgren and Veteran Earl Averill on his hands, the Boston Bees' training camp is buzzing with rumors of a trade in the very near future. Indications point to the sale of Outfielder Max West to one of several national league clubs reputedly eager for his services.

TED KEEPS MUM

SARASOTA, Fla.—(AP)—Holdout Ted Williams appears to be giving the Boston Red Sox the silent treatment. No word has been received from him for several weeks. Bobby Doerr's coming to terms yesterday left the temperamental outfielder as the Sockers' only real holdout.

Talk Over Mansfield Diamond Prospects

MIAMI TRACK MEET BOOKED MAY 9 AND 10

OXFORD, O.—(INS)—The 7th annual Miami university high school track and field meet will be held May 9-10, it was announced today by George L. Rider, director of physical education.

Rider said he expected an even greater entry list than last year for the 1941 meet.

Tygers Tots to Close Season

Hope To Repeat Victory Over McKinley Reserves.

Mansfield High's Tygers will go on to the district tournament at Sandusky after their game tomorrow night against Canton McKinley at Senior high gym, but the Tyger Tots, sometimes known as the Mansfield Reserves, will be closing their season against the McKinley Bulldog pups.

The Tots won their reserve game at Canton 22-21 and hope to turn in another victory tomorrow night in the preliminary game booked at 7 p. m.

Coach Vern Hoffman's regulars have been working all week to perfect an offense against McKinley's man-for-man defense. All other teams on the Tyger schedule use a zone defense, but Canton goes in for a switching man-for-man that's tough to penetrate.

The Tygers looked good enough in practice yesterday as they worked their plays against the Canton system, but it must be admitted that the system as worked by McKinley is much more effective than when operated by the Tyger second team.

Dick Burkholder was hot in flashes yesterday and will give the Bulldogs plenty of trouble if he continues at the same pace tomorrow night.

* * *

Earl Gross, former mayor of New Philadelphia, and Paul Harlow of Newark will be the officials.

LIKES PEARSON

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) - Manager Bill McKechnie of the champion Cincinnati Reds, is high on Monte Pearson, the former Yankee pitcher and Monte is confident he will do all right with the National Leaguers. "I wouldn't be here, if I didn't think I could help McKechnie along," says Monte. "I have plenty of good investment property in California, along with a paid-up annuity policy that will take care of me when I finally decide to quit."

Carbetta Wins Two More Ring Victories In Chicago Joust

Mansfield's Paul Carbetta advanced to the semi-finals of the mid-west Golden Gloves boxing tournament at Chicago last night with his third and fourth victories of the joust.

The flyweight champion of the Cleveland Golden Gloves returns to Chicago March 7 for his next test in quest of the mid-west title.

Carbetta last night decisioned Al Ellis of Detroit and Paul Martinez of Omaha, adding these district champions to his list of victims which already included Elmo Latto of Indianapolis and Eddie Dames of St. Louis.

The flashy florist said it without poises as he dropped Ellis to the canvas for no-count with a blistering left hook to the head in the first round, and had the Detroiter hanging on through the second heat. He was far ahead on points in the third canto and the nod he won was merely a formality.

Paul also took care of Omaha's Paul Martinez in the quarter finals in brilliant fashion and now looms as one of the outstanding stars of the Chicago Tribune tournament.

George (Sonny) Horne, Niles welterweight, won from Thomas Parson, Danville, Ill., and Harry Harrington, Evansville, Ind.

ROOKIES WORK HARD

ORLANDO, Fla. — (AP) — The Washington Senators' rookie pitchers already are scrambling for the three and possibly even six vacancies on the staff. Manager Bucky Harris is planning to carry at least nine flingers, and the only sure-fire regulars are Sid Hudson, Ken Chase and Dutch Leonard. Veteran Danny MacFayden and two promising rookies, Walter Masterson and Arnold Anderson, seem likely to stick.

LAST OF VETS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—Bill Dickey's coming to terms marks the passing of another New York Yankee era. This will be the catcher's 14th season with the Yanks and not a man on the squad was there when Bill first came up. In those 14 season he's dropped below 300 only twice in 1935 to 279, and last year, his worst, when it was .247 for 106 games.

Brown Gives Bucks Workout

Bucky Has Charges Stiff as Salted Mackerel.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Paul Brown, Ohio State football coach, says his charges are as stiff as salted mackerel from indoor drill, but that progress on gridiron fundamentals is being made.

The former Massillon high school mentor addressed a gathering of several hundred "downtown quarterbacks" last night and indicated that the Buck attack next fall would be swift and deadly.

"The first thing on the calendar is to learn simple, unadulterated running," he said. "We want every one of our boys conscious of speed.

"We have spent much time on the elementary shoulder charge," he said of the current practice behind closed doors. "You can't deal a blow or start a swift charge from a poor stance; footwork is the essential basis."

Brown asserted that regardless of a player's connections. "if he is one of the best 11 men and will adhere to my regulations, he plays."

"If he doesn't adhere, his athletic career here is over," he added in stressing that training rules must be observed.

Touching on scholastic eligibility, Brown put it this way:

"If one of our good boys is having scholastic trouble, one of us coaches will just go over to his house every night until an improvement is noticed in the classroom."

"We won't work on the professors," he promised.

NEW LIMITS SET FOR FISHERMEN

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—The state conservation division pointed out today that new legal lengths and creel limits for fishing in Ohio became effective Saturday. The daily creel limit reduced from 40 to 25 fish daily with not more than two days' legal catch of any one species nor an aggregate of 50 of all species in possession at one time.

Track Team Headed By Juniors

Outlook's Bright For '42, But Fair This Season.

Mansfield high Track Coach Harry Mehock checked over his 1941 track squad today and discovered that only the mile and 880-yard events are choked up with seniors.

Candidates for every other event are mainly juniors and sophomores.

"That," said Mehock, "probably means that we'll have only a fair track season this spring, but watch us go in 1942."

* * *

That appears to be the rule for all athletics at the high school this year, starting with football and continuing through the basketball season to track.

It presents a healthy outlook for the future for Tyger athletic teams. The track team, naturally will point for the Mansfield relays April 19.

Track candidates were listed by Mehock as follows:

100 and 220-yard dashes: Doyle Aberholtzer and Dick Burns, seniors; Elroy "Lightnin'" Jones, Art Zuley, Walter Buker and Nick Weimer, juniors; Don Allbus, Dave Cameron, Bill Kinkle, Tom Nemuth, Charles Oglesby, Oster Seymour, and Louis Palmer, sophomores.

High hurdles—Jack Shiplet and Elmer Young, seniors; James Atwater, Floyd Sowash, Bill Boyce, Elroy Jones and Bob Lee, juniors;

Hank Irked By Draft Uproar

NEW YORK—(AP)—Hank Greenberg was still pretty peeved about the whole draft business today, but he felt a little better generally after taking a look at his brand-new contract and discovering the juicy raise the Detroit Tigers were giving him for his baseball services.

* * *

However, Hankus Pankus, like the baseball world in general and the Tigers in particular, was still all up in the air about just what baseballing he'll be doing before the army calls him.

Growling all over the place, he arrived home last night as sore as an open wound about (1) the statements that he had asked deferred classification in the draft and (2) the publication by a Detroit draft board of information in his draft questionnaire which he said was supposed to be confidential.

The big fellow came in by airplane at the end of a trip from Honolulu on which he was stopped "every ten minutes" to explain the whole thing, and he was mighty put out about it. It definitely wasn't the usual docile home-run ace.

"Gee, anybody'd think I was the only guy going into the army," he told baseball writers. "And I don't know a thing about it. All I know is when my number is called I'll go, and I'm not asking deferment. For any more dope, you'll have to ask that draft board in Detroit. They're making a statement every day, and every one seems to be different."

SEES MISTAKE

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—Mike Gonzales, St. Louis Cardinal coach who'll always be famous for his "good field, no hit" sizeup, dropped in to tell the world champion Cincinnati Reds they'd made a mistake in trading Shortstop Billy Myers to Chicago.

Tribe Relief Hurler Gets Suspension

Andrews Set Down for Breaking Club Training Rules; Presents Problem

FT. MYERS, Fla.—(UP)—The strange case of Nate Andrews, talented relief pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, puzzled baseball followers again today.

Andrews, a star with Columbus in the American association two seasons ago, was suspended yesterday by Manager Roger Peckinpaugh for breaking training rules, failure to report at practice and failure to make the team hotel his quarters.

The Andrews problem was "unfortunate" by Peckinpaugh as the new Tribe pilot administered his first disciplinary penalty.

"If Andrews had snapped out of it a couple of days ago we might have arrived at some agreement," Peck explained. "But we gave him as much time as we could for his own sake. Now this has to be done in the interest of discipline."

* * *

Andrews has been noted as a "loose liver" among baseball players even though the wheel of baseball fortune has spun his way more often than average.

After compiling a fine record at Columbus with a mediocre club, he was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals who in turn sent him to the St. Louis Browns.

Last spring he was sent back to the minors to St. Paul where he soon found himself in bad graces with the management.

Trying to get rid of their "problem," the St. Paul front office in mid-season unexpectedly found a buyer in the Indians, then seeking any sort of pitching help for a pennant drive.

So Andrews landed back in the big show and with a championship contending team. Still young, he had another chance this spring to establish himself in the American league.

But he reported for practice four days late in poor condition and hasn't come around to the training park at all this week.

C. C. Slapnicka, Cleveland general manager, was to consider Andrews' case today.

Peckinpaugh has scheduled the first intra-squad game for next Sunday.

* * *

A right-handed batting experiment by Hal Trosky featured the Indian drills yesterday. The big slugger has ambitions to become a "switch" hitter. Thirty-nine players were in uniform with Andrews, Roy Weatherly, a holdout, and Elmer Sidlo, a rookie without his shoes and gloves, as the only absentees from practice.

Pin Hopes on Wittenberg

Mounts Look to Lutherans For Help To Title.

(By Associated Press)

Mount Union's Purple Raiders boast the state's best basketball record but they're counting on Wittenberg for an assist to give them the Ohio conference championship.

If either of those teams beat the Wooster Scots, the Mounts will cop the conference laurels. The Scots play Wittenberg at Wooster tomorrow and Muskingum at New Concord March 4. Wooster also invades Kenyon Saturday but isn't expecting much difficulty in view of the Gambier team's 50 to 85 defeat by Defiance last night.

Mount Union closed its season with a 58-41 victory over John Carroll of Cleveland at Alliance last night. It was the raiders' 14th win in 15 games and their eighth in nine conference starts.

In the night's only other Buckeye collegiate contest, Hiram entertained Youngstown to its sorrow. The invaders won, 64 to 40, with Leo Mogus racking up 26 points to boost his season's total to 348, only two behind front-running Bob Gerber of Toledo university. The contest closed the season for both Hiram and Youngstown.

Games tonight: Cincinnati at Miami, Rio Grande at Tiffin, Ohio Wesleyan at DeSales, Capital at Denison, Heidelberg at Findlay and Otterbein at Muskingum.

TROSKY TO SWITCH

FORT MYERS, Fla.—(AP)—Hal Trosky, Cleveland first baseman who slumped to a .295 batting average last season, has been given permission by Manager Roger Peckinpaugh to become a switch hitter, batting righthanded against southpaws. Trosky says he started his career as a right-hander (he still throws that way) and sees no reason why he shouldn't be able to improve his percentage working from alternate sides of the plate.

SENTRY STEWS IN OWN JUICE

CAMP SHELBY, Miss.—(AP)—The rookie sentry, heckled to the point of desperation by soldiers giving fictitious names when challenged, decided to take the matter in hand. So when a "Major Moses" answered his challenge, he promptly ordered:

"Advance Moses and recite the 10 commandments."

The man who stepped up was a REAL Major Moses. And to add to the sentry's confusion he promptly recited each and every one of the commandments.

MART FALTERS AS BUYERS FEAR STRIKE AND WAR

Steels Lead in Drift Although Real Weakness Appears But Rarely.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Faltering tendencies appeared in today's stock market although real weakness was a rarity.

Prominent in the early lower drift were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Republic Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, American Telephone, Westinghouse and General Electric.

Timidity among potential buyers, brokers said, was accentuated by the Bethlehem Steel strike and more or less indefinite war developments.

Market encouragement was found in trade compliations indicating American industry in 1940 lifted its aggregate earning power by some 20 per cent over 1939 notwithstanding climbing taxes and numerous dislocations caused by the conflict in Europe.

Relief At Last For Your Cough
Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.
Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.
No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

2 DEMOCRATIC SENATORS TIFF OVER AID BILL

Brown Defends It as Way To Avoid 'Prussianism' as Chavez Attacks Plan.

that one of two devastating results, devastating to the United States, will occur," he continued.

"Either we will have to face the German conqueror on the high seas, in the air, on the field of battle, or we will have to build such a powerful military machine that he will not dare attack us.

"I submit that one of those two results will follow a German victory. I submit that neither of those results will follow a British victory."

A Hitler triumph will put the world in a state of fear, Brown declared, adding:

"Our present armed forces and those in contemplation would be but a beginning, the foundation for our military machine. I can vision an army exceeding 10,000,000 men, a navy built up so that it is stronger on each ocean than any combination that might be sent against us, our harbors, our river mouths, our whole coast bristling with guns, our great cities armed camps with air forces ready to meet any attack, and behind it all, our industrial power, our agricultural productive ability—in fact, our whole economy built for war.

"In short, it would be an America 'Prussianized' as was Germany under the kaiser, as is Germany under its present master.

"I vision an America with its democracy lost, ruled by iron discipline, having for its sole purpose its defense.

"It is not difficult in view of some of the things that have been said, that our leadership, drunk with the heavy wine of military power, would soon follow the course pursued by the conquerors of history."

Victory for Germany, he said, would lead to American imperialism.

"It would soon be argued that Canada was necessary for our defense, that Mexico, Central America, the nearby islands ought by right be ours," Brown charged.

"In other words, because human nature under similar circumstances reacts in about the same way, a Prussianized, militarized America might act as 'Prussianized' Germany has acted. I want no military master ruling my country."

Chavez said he favored aid to England short of war but charged that the bill goes beyond that.

"This bill is not a peace bill," he said. "This bill, I say, is not a defense bill. It is a measure which promises to lead us into the life-and-death struggle which is now engaging Europe."

Chavez declared that the measure "will ally us with another power, and will make us equally responsible for the outcome of the present struggle." Assailing arguments hat the bill will promote defense of the nation, Chavez asserted that "it is criminal to delude the people into believing that if this bill is passed they will be farther away from war."

The bill, he said, will do much to destroy good relations with Central and South American nations. It is to the south, he added, that the United States should turn.

"I join with my distinguished colleagues who have assured this body that passage of the proposed bill spells war, and the undoing of everything we have built, developed or perfected since that memorable year when we declared our independence," he declared.

Chavez declared that "it is a strange paradox to save democracy by losing it" and asked "can anyone doubt that our manpower would be reduced, that our resources would be depleted and that our wealth would be squandered?"

BATAVIA ARMY ALERT TO BALK FIFTH COLUMN

Tricks, Disguises Tried on East Indies Troops In Practice.

BATAVIA, Java.—(U.P.)—Netherlands East Indies soldiers maintain a night-and-day watch against fifth columnists as they guarded a veritable storehouse of materials vital to a nation at war.

The watch is still largely in the drill stage, but not to the soldiers. They are not informed about the state of world affairs when they march from their barracks. They tramp to their posts with full cartridge belts and fixed bayonets with every intention of using both if necessary.

Realism is the keynote of the drills, even if they appear to take on comic opera aspects at time. A certain section of the Batavia militia may be told that 50 fifth columnists will try to enter the city on a prescribed date and on these occasions anything goes. The "fifth columnists" use disguises of all types and individual ingenuity is encouraged.

Various Ruses Practiced.

Few "fifth columnists" get into Batavia during these drills.

On one occasion, however, a policeman in uniform on a motorbike appeared at the barriers. He was asked for his papers. Complaining that he had to be at headquarters at once, he pointed to his uniform and demanded to know if that was not proof enough. The guards let him by—and a "fifth columnist" entered the city.

Another group slipped by, posing as a Chinese funeral, corpse and all.

One of the most daring performances was by a man who decked himself in a judge's robe. He waved a greeting as he approached the barrier in a sedan and the guards let him pass without question.

When the pseudo judge reached Batavia, he decided to carry the farce further. He entered a court, mounted the bench and proceeded with the first case before he was exposed.

The successful disguises do not work more than once, for drill notes are compared and each succeeding practice cuts down the number who manage to slip past the barriers.

Bitter Lesson Learned.

Dutch sentiment is best expressed by the motto across the facade of the Department of War. It reads: "If peace is desired, prepare for war." The Dutch learned a bitter lesson in Europe and are sparing no effort to prepare for any eventuality here.

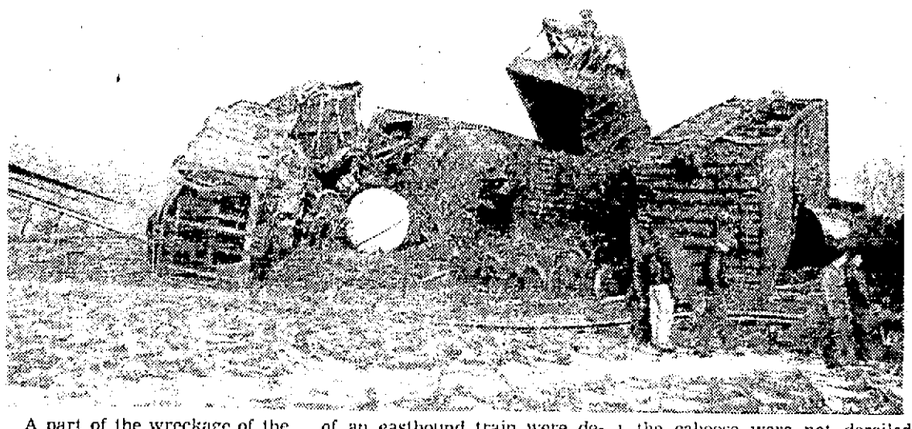
Militia service, conscription of Europeans from Holland, and regular recruiting are progressing. A modern, highly mobile army is being trained and the wheels of war production in ordnance and powder factories at Bandoeng are turning at top speed.

An invader would have to face formidable Dutch naval forces. Since small, swift vessels are best adapted to defense of the Indies, a large number of motor torpedo boats have been added and are being built in the naval dockyards of Sourabaya.

The Dutch have a number of old cruisers, but these are used chiefly for training ships. They also have a number of modern British-type destroyers, 18 modern submarines, and at present are concentrating on building up the naval air arm. Present equipment consists chiefly of Dornier flying boats, but the Dutch hope to get a number of the United States Navy's new PBY5 flying boats.

England's Lord Beverbrook once made a round trip to the United States in eight days, remaining in New York only overnight.

As Cars Piled Up In Crawford County



A part of the wreckage of the A. C. and Y. freight train which piled up Tuesday near North Auburn in Crawford county is shown in this photo. Twenty cars of an eastbound train were derailed and wrecked on a straightaway section of track. The five-member crew escaped injury. While the cause of the wreck was not determined immediately, it was believed a break in the air line might have been responsible. The locomotive, 12 cars, and the caboose were not derailed. Naphtha which spilled from a tank car created a fire hazard, and officers warned sightseers against throwing cigarets or matches near the accident scene. The picture was taken by Neal Buzard, 147 East Third street, Mansfield.

Weather Men Get 6-Month Duty Tour On Desert Island

NEW ORLEANS, La.—(AP)—For the next six months New Orleans will be the food pipeline to two men shut up on a little Caribbean island, a thousand miles away, to do a job for Uncle Sam.

The men, Neil B. Ward, 26, and George Grover, 25, are United States Weather Bureau workers. On Swan Island, 100 miles northeast of Honduras, they will make observations and supply surface and upper air data on the temperature, pressure and wind. Both volunteered for the job.

The island, where ships stop only at six-week intervals, is uninhabited except for a few occasional native visitors. Personal messages by radio can be sent through the same channels as weather reports. United Fruit Company ships will take the men fresh food regularly from New Orleans. They reached the island late in February.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1941.

Note to congress: "In union there is strength."

Birds are the most beautiful of all creatures, and wherever there are birds there are people who want to shoot them.

A scientist says that another planet may hit the earth some day and wreck everything—meanwhile Hitler is offering his services in a similar capacity.

Effort To Delay Fireworks Ban

AN EFFORT is being made by fireworks interests to induce the state senate to amend the anti-fireworks bill so as to postpone operation of the proposed law until August 1.

It is argued that manufacturers and dealers should be allowed to dispose of stocks made up or planned for this year's Fourth of July use.

As passed by the house, the bill to prohibit the sale and use of fireworks would become law before next Independence day and fireworks interests have no just cause for complaint as there has been a steady trend in this direction for the past several years.

Sale and use of fireworks, except in supervised exhibitions, is already prohibited by ordinance in a number of Ohio cities but lack of a state law has left it possible to sell fireworks at roadside stands just outside corporation bounds.

In addition to the danger of deaths, injuries and fires from the indiscriminate use of fireworks by children and careless adults, there is an element of waste of ingredients used in fireworks which are also essential for military purposes.

Weight of argument is clearly on the side of those who favor making the fireworks ban effective BEFORE next Fourth of July instead of afterward.

Charges Against School Textbooks

WHAT may be regarded as a serious accusation has been made by Dr. Ralph West Robey, assistant professor of banking at Columbia university.

Dr. Robey charges that a "substantial proportion" of social science textbooks used in high schools in the United States are critical of democracy, belittle the American form of government and hold the system of free business enterprise "in derision and contempt." He says his conclusions are reached after making a survey of six hundred text books.

These charges drew immediate rebuttal and the American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom has appointed a committee of ten "to combat the censorship threat inherent in the textbook investigation."

Considering Dr. Robey's additional charge that a few of the textbooks were "obviously Communistic" and that the quality of most was at "a very low level," it might appear as more important for objecting educators to counter with proof that these charges are unfounded, rather than to consider them a "censorship threat."

Charges that communistic influences have been at work in some American public schools and colleges have become too common in recent years to be disregarded and this would be a fine time to have a showdown on that subject, so that truth or falsity of the accusations can be established.

The criticism that such action involves a "censorship threat" or hampers "intellectual freedom" is as ridiculous as objection to investigation of alleged subversive activities along any other line. The right to "intellectual freedom," while granted to individuals, cannot be safely entrusted to school and college instructors who prefer some alien ism to the American way of life. If that is "censorship" then censorship is needed.

Japan's Growing Arrogance

JAPAN presents a curious contradiction. The Japanese mostly seem to be a kindly, gentle, courteous people, whom Americans have learned to like and admire. This statement refers particularly to the civilian population. And yet increasingly in recent years, contacts with the Japanese have given Americans an unfavorable impression, because our people have met with so much rudeness.

The rudeness seems to come mainly from politicians and military men, who ignore the constitutional rights of their own people and insist on treating foreigners with harshness and disrespect. They have done this particularly with the British and Americans, their former friends and tutors, whom they now regard as interlopers in the Far East, entitled to no respect and consideration.

The navy, too, has a swashbuckling tendency, but is not so bad as the army. Between those two fighting forces, social courtesy, normal diplomacy and constitutional government have no chance.

Now the imperialists, embarked on a long-projected conquest of the Orient, and perhaps the world, brook no restraint at home or abroad. Courtesy or gentleness only seems to make them more arrogant.

How strong they are militarily is another question. Their resources are slight. American observers generally conclude that they are a second or third-rate power, which talks big to keep up its courage, has been much overrated, has never gone up against a first-rate power, and could probably be stopped effectively by either Britain or America.

Mother's Work-Day Shortened

WITH reduction of man-hours of work there has also been much progress in cutting down the "woman-hours" of work required in homes. Observant people will recall how much time the preparation of family meals used to take. Mother was cooking about half the time, and it often seemed longer than that on Sunday.

Now a statistician figures that 60,000,000 woman-hours of work per day were saved in America last year, and this type of salvation is rolling on fast. The factory and grocery co-operate with Mother more and more. Almost every commodity, the expert observes, can now be obtained in package form. Ready-to-serve products are increasing steadily, and many of them now require only a little milk in warming up. Research is "designing foods" more intelligently all the time, so that digestibility goes with time-saving.

The meals of tomorrow, he thinks, will not take ten minutes to prepare, and they'll be good for you.

But that raises again the baffling question, "What will Mother do with her leisure time?"

A scientist, or more specifically a geophysicist, says there are gold-bearing trees in some parts of the United States and Canada—and the information is respectfully submitted to promoters of otherwise impractical pension plans.

Only Real Defense

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHY don't you," says she, "write more about the war and national defense like the other columnists do?

Write about defense? That's all I'm doing these days, lady. Maybe you don't recognize it as such because I don't quote a lot of statistics or give the government a daily shellacking. But you can bet your last nickel that the "defense" I'm writing about is the only kind that will protect this country now or save it in the future. And that defense is personally up to you.

FOR GUNS WON'T SAVE AMERICA—

SHIPS AND SUBMARINES AND PLANES WON'T SAVE AMERICA—

TRAINED TROOPS OR TRICK MANEUVERS WON'T SAVE AMERICA—

The only thing that can save America is the character of our American citizens . . . their faith . . . their vision . . . their willing sacrifices and red-hot determination.

Ammunition is a great thing to have. But the only ammunition that really turns the trick in the long run is CHARACTER. We're only as great as our dreams . . . only as powerful as our determination to put those dreams across.

America wasn't built on bullets or bayonets nor preserved by motorized units. We fought when we had to fight, but the secret of our success did not lie in those antiquated muskets. It lay in the fire that burned in the hearts of the hungry, ragged men behind them . . . in the faith and courage of their women they had left at home . . . in the visions of freedom and equality which inspired them all.

Freedom and equality weren't mere words then. They weren't something you took for granted as we now take trolley cars and chewing gum. They were something you won, out of your own sweat and tears. They were something new and glorious in human history, which few men had known before or ever dared to imagine. And because of them, those homeless fathers of ours dared a savage wilderness—and made America!

And now we think we can save that America with guns? Let us not kid ourselves.

We can only save America with character! By doing our little daily chores decently and gallantly, no matter how obscure or monotonous they may seem.

We may have thousands of planes and destroyers . . . mountains of ammunition and endless regiments of troops.

BUT WE WILL ONLY BE AS STRONG AND AS SURE AS THE MOST OBSCURE FAMILY IN CITY TENEMENT OR PRAIRIE DUGOUT.

ONLY AMERICANISM CAN SAVE AMERICA.

If the dream and the glory, the faith and the fury die out of their hearts, we're sunk, even though a Nazi boot never crosses our border.

Why is Hitler, that monstrous blight, so victorious? He is victorious because he believes in his cause and his destiny, and has persuaded the German people to believe as he believes.

Do not be deceived. This is not "a war of ideas." It is a war of faith. And it will go to those who have the greatest faith in their way of life and are willing to make the greatest sacrifices for it.

We have almost forgotten about sacrifice in America. We have (almost) forgotten about character. We have been putting our bets on money and smartness. Now comes the pay-off! Have we what it takes? Is there enough still left of the old American spirit to smack 'em down as we did in 1776? Personally I believe we have; but I also believe we'll have to do a lot of hustling to prove it.

So why do I write about YOU, instead of about the war?

BECAUSE YOU ARE THE WAR—AND IN YOUR SPIRIT LIES ITS VICTORY OR DEFEAT!

TODAY IN HISTORY

On Feb. 27 1807 the famous American poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born at Portland, Maine. Longfellow was also professor of modern languages at Harvard college for many years.

This Is Ohio

EUROPEAN hostilities may result in the growth of an important industry for utilization of rich peat deposits which underlie many parts of the state.

Peat is widely used to condition sandy soil, in a shredded form for gardens, lawns and greenhouses and as a mulch for plants. Large imports from Europe have been stopped by the war. Tests in 1912 showed that Ohio has millions of dollars worth of high grade peat and muck in its under 150,000 acres of fresh water swamps and bogs.

The deposits range in size from one acre or less to hundreds of acres and are from one to 10 feet in depth. The peat acreage capable of utilization is near the eastern and middle-western markets and centers of population. Currently peat soils for around $3 a bale of 150 pounds.

Health And Diet

Answers To Health Questions.

—By DR. CLENDENING

V. S.: "What are the different ways goiter may be removed? What do you consider the safest way for a very weak person?"

Answer — A goiter sometimes goes away of itself. This is particularly true of the small enlargements of the thyroid occurring in adolescent girls and the small goiters that appear in regions where the iodine in the soil is poor. There is no certain way to remove a large goiter except by surgery. Rubbing medicine on the outside or painting it with iodine will not decrease the size of the goiter.

J. M. G.: "What effect has the loss of a kidney on a person's ability to work? What length of time will it take before such persons are able to work? What kinds of jobs are preferred?"

Answer — A person with one kidney is functionally as well off as a person with two. It takes about two or three months for a person to recover from an operation for removal of one kidney. Any kind of a job within reason can be performed by a person with one kidney.

R. O. E.:—"What is the cause of sweats which come on in a man from 4 p. m. until 9 p. m. each day? Have also been sick, weak and nervous."

Answer—Any chronic infection will do this, particularly tuberculosis. So will thyroid disease and occasionally nervousness. You need a complete physical examination.

M. E.:—"Could you please tell me whether it is any use to have a wisdom tooth filled or would removal of the tooth be best once it starts aching? I once read that wisdom teeth are very soft."

Answer — Dentists fill wisdom teeth constantly and they last about as well as any other teeth.

Camp Surroundings Cause Worry, Morals of Draftees Endangered

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Not pleasant to contemplate is the fact that in almost every war disabilities from venereal disease rival those from actual battle. And although this country is not at war, has only begun to mobilize its new army, already this ugly problem is worrying army chiefs.

Already, also, there are serious differences as to how to deal with the problem. The Public Health Service—not part of the army—is vigorously opposed to segregated districts around army camps, contends that if disease is to be suppressed, prostitution must be suppressed.

But some hard-boiled army commanders incline to the opposite view. Officially and formally, the army, navy and public health service have signed a declaration of policy pledging co-operation with local police in preventing prostitution. But many camp commanders have treated this as a scrap of paper.

Partial solution to this problem in the last war was entertainment. But in the present emergency, the army decided to rule out the diversified system of camp entertainment by the frequently bickering YMCA, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, and Young Men's Hebrew association, which prevailed in the last war.

So much friction and rivalry developed among these organizations over camp entertainment in 1917-18 that camp commanders spent a lot of their time ironing out disputes. So eventually their entertainment features were merged under one director, Harry Harrison, then head of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, and the man who later put across the 3,000,000 advance ticket sale for the Chicago World's Fair.

It was Harrison, together with Paul M. Pearson of the Swarthmore Chautauqua, who organized the Smileage Books, which for about ten cents each admitted soldiers to concerts, lectures, light opera, and Broadway productions.

Secretary of War Stimson is convinced that similar organized entertainment is the best solution for the new army's recreation. Furthermore, he considers it all-important from the viewpoint of the nation that the parents of drafted boys have confidence in their moral as well as physical well-being.

The Taft Brothers.

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT'S boys, Bob and Charley, are at odds again, Charley having been in Washington more than a week in his new job before he got together with Bob.

Reason is the job Charley has taken from the hands of Roosevelt. It sounds harmless enough—"Assistant Co-ordinator of Recreational Activities for Defense"—but it's a sufficient tie-up with the administration foreign policy to leave anti-interventionist Bob a bit chilly.

What hurt more, perhaps, was that Charley, who has long quarreled with his brother over domestic policies, accepted the job just the week before the historic lease-lend debate opened in the senate. Bob knew where brother Charley stood long before, namely with the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. But this brought the split into public gaze.

"You don't have to agree with your brother all the time, do you?" is Bob's shrugging comment.

Turks vs. Bulgars.

INSIDE reason why the Turks signed a non-aggression pact with the Bulgars has been given U. S. diplomats by the British foreign office. It is this:

"Some months ago the British themselves suggested that the Turks and Bulgars sign a treaty of friendship and non-aggression. But negotiations dragged. Then suddenly, just at the wrong moment from a psychological point of view, the pact was completed. Its announcement to the world was construed as meaning Turkey would not pentrate Bulgarian soil to oppose Germany.

The British say this interpretation is all wet.

Tip-off to the situation is that the British have been rushing reinforcements to Salonika to backstop both the Greeks and the Turks—if they co-operate. And co-operation in the Balkans usually goes to the strongest side.

Hoover's Pet Bureau.

BELIEVE it or not, but the long decrepit Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, once the pet of Herbert Hoover, is being overhauled and if all goes well, may almost justify the appropriations it draws down from congress.

Incidentally, it is being reorganized along the same lines as the German Ministry of Economics.

The rise and fall of the Bureau goes back to the Coolidge bull market days when Hoover was secretary of Commerce, when foreign exports were booming, and when every investment turned to gold. At that time, the Bureau was the pet of business and was hailed as Hoover's greatest achievement.

Even while he was in the White House, however, the Bureau began to decline. It did not get the full attention which he once gave it, and he even permitted some of its commercial attaches in foreign countries to be taken under the state department's ponderous wing.

In Dan Roper's era as secretary of commerce, the Bureau sagged even more. It continued stagnant under the ill Mr. Hopkins. Meanwhile, every new government agency set up its own group of economists and trade experts instead of getting information from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, as originally intended.

That was about all they could do. For when the Defense Commission needed up-to-date studies of certain wartime situations, it found the Bureau plugging along with the same routine peacetime studies it had done for a decade.

Secretary Jones has now ordered a complete reorganization, and it looks as if the old jinx will be lifted.

OUT-OF-STATE Republicans sent a total of $47,390 into Indiana last year to help carry it for Wendell Willkie. Unofficial GOP explanation is that the money was used to pay bills left over from the Elwood notification ceremonies. . . . The budget is full of unique little items, such as $6,000 for a fence on the Texas-Mexican border, $76,000 for personal funds for inmates of federal narcotic institutions, $10,000 for sea food inspection. . . . The 5,400,000 books in the Library of Congress, largest collection in the world, take up more than 175 miles of shelves. Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Tommy Tucker is an orchestra leader and a Phi Beta Kappa who thinks so little of jewelry that he doesn't even own a Phi Beta Kappa key.

He is a University of North Dakota product who played baseball and debated during his undergraduate days and then tried his hand at teaching, which bored him, and drove him, presently, to banging a hot piano in a Minot cafe. Thus the transition from professorship, into a band leader, though, despite all the good things that have come to him, his great ambition has not been realized and never will be be. "I have always," says Tommy Tucker, "wanted to pitch for the Minneapolis Millers."

In his off moments Tucker is an "escape" movie fan and a reader of thrill fiction. He plays a lot of golf and dotes on barbecued ribs. In his wallet is a card which identifies him a special police officer of Santa Monica, Calif. "Doesn't mean a thing," says he.

His musical signature is "I Love You (Oh, How I Love You)," and there are, he says, only 251 other songs bearing this same title.

UNLIKE Kay Kyser, the late Hal Kemp, Skinnay Ennis, and other band leaders who had their own bands in college, Tomby never became identified with a musical organization while residing amid the sacred groves of the U. of N. D. On the side, however, he fiddled around with a trombone and a piano, writing bad songs that never got published but which drew curious rejections from publishers, such as the one about a football hero which the publisher called "Too English in Character."

So Tucker became an orchestra leader proper and began those criss-crossings of the continent which seem essential to the development of any good band. It played tank towns up and down the country for years and finally became known, and here it is. At 29 Tommy Tucker is still a bachelor. He is a native of Souris, N. D., a metropolis smack-dab on the Canadian border and sporting a population of 250. His daddy was a railroad man.

ANDRE KOSTELANETZ recently wrote 150 letters to army camps, forts and similar concentrations of young draftees. His idea, he says, was to ascertain the musical preferences of the youngsters now being transferred into soldiers. He wanted to find out what their favorite songs were and, if possible, why.

The returns now are all in, and Kostelanetz, with some amazement, announced that "Beer Barrel Polka," the old Czechoslovakian drinking song, is the nation's favorite among marching men. The runners-up were "U. S. Field Artillery March," "Semper Fidelis," and "Ferry Boat Serenade."

"God Bless America" and "I Am An American," Kostelanetz reports, received only scattered ballots. At Arlington, Va., the Twelfth Infantry picked the Navy's song, "Anchors Aweigh," but the 52nd Coast Artillery at Ft. Hancock preferred "Sweet Sue." The old First Cavalry at Ft. Knox, Ky., is now the First Armored Regiment, but has remained loyal to four-footed friends in preference of a song. Its selection, "The Old Gray Mare."

A Farmer's Diary

On the Clean Page

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

DURING the night a light snow fell. Contrasted with the new white skiff, the snow beneath looked worn and dirty. I walked out early for I knew the wild folk would have written on the clean page their doings of the night.

Along the trail that led, rutily, through my neighbor's woods, field mice had made airholes through the new fallen covering. I counted twenty such openings from different angles. Looking down into this small round hole, I saw the hard-packed runway of a much-used tunnel. Near a cavity at the base of a beech, a gray squirrel had left his entering mark, but no return. He had come in from his early frolic and called it a day. I smiled to think how comfortable he might be, curled up in a soft lined nest perhaps only a few feet from me. But I did not even rap upon his door.

But by far the most interesting track I came upon was that of the ever cunning winter clown—the rabbit. He had jumped from a little snowy hutch behind a timothy clump and run along parallel to the narrow wagon road. The tracks were about four feet apart—a leisurely gait. Forty steps ahead, he stopped to listen. The imprint of his haunches and the faint mark of his soft stubby tail were plain. Here bunny had stood up to listen and get the latest news.

I could easily imagine one long trumpet-like ear held high and slightly backward, while the other tilted forward to get messages from the opposite direction. Then he moved six feet at a jump for quite a distance. He slowed again, when he got the scent of blue grass beneath the snow. He dug a narrow opening, and I saw where he had grazed. The grass was nibbled down to the white, sweet roots and the turf was unfrozen. He dug a second tunnel larger than the first, where the food seemed more abundant.

A foot beyond this place of feeding the final chapter of his life was written. His feet nervously stamped the earth. He lay on his right side, and his right ear touched the snow. A noiseless terror from the sky glided down from some treetop and with taut legs and keen talons fell upon the rabbit and bore him off. I saw, though, the marks of a writhing struggle and the feathered triangle of both wings as they flopped upon the snow.

HE'LL INFORM MANSFIELD OF LIFE IN ARMY

Former N-J Employe, Now at Ft. Knox, To Write About Experiences In Camp.

Volunteering for army service, Si Wachsberger, former Mansfield man, is fast learning the army routine at Ft. Knox, Ky., and in the coming weeks will keep Mansfielders informed about army life.

On Feb. 18 Wachsberger left Mansfield with others in the local contingent for Ft. Hayes, Columbus, where the final examination was held. Soon after he was assigned to Ft. Knox with several other Mansfield boys.

Prior to his enlistment he was employed as an advertising solicitor for the News-Journal. His interesting anecdotes concerning camp schedules and the ups and downs of army training will appear in The News-Journal along with candid camera shots taken of Mansfield boys in camp.

Wachsberger says "life here has been a lot of fun in spite of the million and one handicaps. We sleep in tents that are very thoroughly air conditioned —and what I mean thoroughly."

He and the new recruits haven't left the post yet but he states that in four days of drilling the boys have walked more than they'd done in any month of their lives.

Wachsberger hasn't viewed "that ole southern blue grass yet," and he says "there are no Kentucky colonels running loose down here —only corporals, sergeants and second 'looies'."

In closing his brief message he doesn't forget to mention the "chow" which "is too good to miss."

NO 'HELL WEEK'

DELAWARE—(AP)—There'll be NO "hell week" for sorority pledges at Ohio Wesleyan university, it was announced by Miss Betty Agate, senior from Oberlin and president of Pan-Hellanic council. Sororities will promote constructive, rather than destructive initiations, she said. In the future the week will be known on the campus as "courtesy week."

MOTHER'S SOLUTION

ZANESVILLE —(AP)— Progressive education dep't—the worried mother of a youngster who let his shirt tails fly because he thought it made him look tough, solved the problem by sewing lace to the tails.

Mansfielders at Camp Smile

Camp life must not be so bad judging by the smiles on the faces of the two Mansfield boys, Si Wachsberger, right and Barney Adams, who are training at Camp Knox, Ky. The picture was taken recently at the barracks at Ft. Hayes, Columbus, where they were examined before entraining for Ft. Knox. Wachsberger, former employe of The News-Journal, plans to write a series of articles on camp life which will appear in The News-Journal.

WRITES HISTORY OF IOWA'S LEAD

University Professor Says France, Britain and Spain Scrambled For Gold.

IOWA CITY, Ia.—(U.P.)—Nearly 250 years ago, tales of the fabulous El Dorado somewhere in what is now the Middle West had French, British and Spaniards scrambling for riches inland.

The "land of gold" was never discovered. Instead, early explorers found rich deposits of lead in the vicinity of Dubuque, Ia.

Dr. William J. Petersen of the University of Iowa history department has outlined the history of the mines since the expedition of Marquette and Joliet in 1673.

It was in 1690, Dr. Petersen found, that Nicholas Perrot came to teach the Miami Indians how to mine lead. In 1717, John Law established his "Company of the West," but when his "Mississippi Bubble" burst, France was shaken to its foundations, he said.

British military forces were sent in 1780 to drive out the Spaniards and stop a supply of lead from reaching Washington's armies.

Julien Dubuque began to dig lead in 1788, the year George Washington was elected president, and eight years later he staked out his "Mines of Spain" as the largest land grant in the Iowa country.

When settlers swarmed into Iowa in 1833, they increased the lead production and by 1847 the total valuation of lead received at St. Louis was double the combined value of the St. Louis fur trade and commerce over the Santa Fe trail, the university historian declared.

THEY CARRY ON

LONDON—(AP)— Nearly 500 Methodist churches, more than 200 of them in London, have been damaged or destroyed by air raids throughout Britain, but church work has continued "almost without interruption."

FAMED POET TO TALK AT GALION

Alfred Noyes Will Be Heard In Lecture Defending Aesthetic Values.

GALION—When Alfred Noyes, well known poet and author arrives in Galion, Thursday, March 6, for a lecture here, Mrs. Noyes will accompany him, according to the latest reports.

Requests for tickets have started coming in from out of town with Mansfield and Bucyrus heading the list.

Bellevue school and teachers expect to be represented by around 30 or 40 people.

Today Alfred Noyes, distinguished English poet, ranks high among those defending aesthetic and religious values against the competing doctrines of materialistic philosophies. His most recent formulation of this credo for modern man is found in his first novel, "No Other Man," which was published in the summer of 1940.

Alfred Noyes was born in England and educated in public schools there. Soon after his graduation from Oxford university he began his literary career with the publication of poems in various leading journals. Well known to many dramatic students is the poem, "The Highwayman."

During the first World war he was barred from active military service because of defective eyes, but worked untiringly for his country with his pen and on the lecture platform. In 1916 he was attached to the Foreign Office of the British government, and was made a commander of the Order of the British Empire in 1928 for his work.

Repeated Nazi bombardments of his home on the Isle of Wight brought Dr. Noyes, his wife and three children into temporary exile in Canada the latter part of the summer, 1940.

SEVEN DIE AS PLANE CRASHES NEAR ATLANTA

Eddie Rickenbacker Among 9 Who Escape After Ship Strikes Trees.

south of the airport.

Brady, who lay injured near the plane's wreckage, kept shouting to rescuers:

"For God's sake, don't light any matches or cigarets. You'll burn us up."

High test gasoline was dripping from the wrecked plane.

The plane first struck among some pines, ripping away one of its metal-covered wings and mowing a path through the trees. It crashed another 150 yards or so where a pine impaled the second wing and the sliced-open cabin skidded to a stop some 50 yards further.

Rosenfeld said the passengers had no indication that anything was wrong until the plane started losing altitude, then the lights went out and the impact came a few seconds later.

Air line officials said the plane came in at 4,000 feet over Stone Mountain some 20 miles east of Atlanta, dropped down to 1,800 over the airport, and reported it was "on the beam." Since the ceiling was only 300 feet because of low clouds and rain, it was decided to bring the sleeper in on a radio triangle and it was not heard from again by the field after it swung away on these invisible guidelines used for landings when weather cuts visibility.

Officials Fly To Investigate Crash

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The civil aeronautics board announced today that four CAB officials will fly this morning to Jonesboro, Ga., to investigate the crash of the Eastern Airlines passenger plane.

Frank Caldwell, chief of the investigation division of the bureau, will head the group. With him will be two assistants and a representative of the legal division, it was announced.

Rickenbacker Began Career as Racer

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, injured in the crash of an Eastern Airlines transport plane near Jonesboro, Ga., vaulted to leadership in the American aviation industry after emerging from the World war as America's "ace of aces."

A student of engineering and drafting, the 51-year-old Rickenbacker, who was born in Columbus, has been associated with automobile and aviation industry for the last three decades.

Rickenbacker went to work in a Columbus tombstone manufactory at the age of 15. He made $6 a week, but he was even then determined to become a racing driver so he quit to take a $4 a week job in a garage.

For years, he served as a racing apprentice and riding mechanic and drove in his first automobile race in 1909. He was in countless spills and misadventures but finally hung up a world's record of 134 miles an hour at Daytona in 1914.

In 1917, while managing a racing team, he quit the dirt tracks to leave for the war zone as one of the personal chauffeurs of General John Pershing.

Transferred to the air corps at Tours, France on Aug. 25, 1917, he later was put on active duty with the 94th aero squadron. In Sept. 1918, "Rick" was promoted to commander of the famous 94th with the rank of captain.

At the end of the war, Rickenbacker returned to the United States, being officially credited with having shot down 25 German planes.

Rickenbacker then became associated with the Rickenbacker Motor company as vice president and director of sales. He then transferred to General Motors, and in 1932 he affiliated with American Airways, Inc., as vice president. On June 1, 1935, he was appointed to his post as general manager of Eastern Air Lines.

Wife of Flier Goes To Scene of Crash

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—(AP)—Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker, wife of the famed flier who was a passenger on the wrecked EAL plane, left early today by automobile over a snow-covered highway for Atlanta.

Taking part in the one-act play tournament will be the cast of "Storm Before Sunset." Faces Man Who Killed Mate

Here is a dramatic police station scene at Glendale, Cal., in which the widow of Clinton Thompson, slain by R. L. Hawkins in an "unwritten law" case, confronts Hawkins, at right. According to the story told police, Hawkins and his wife agreed on a trial separation. Upon returning home unexpectedly, he allegedly found his wife and Thompson, a boarder at the Hawkins, home, embracing each other. Hawkins then shot and killed Thompson. Mrs. Thompson is an expectant mother.

VIOLENCE HITS PICKET LINES

Steel Strike Called at Plant of Bethlehem Company; Cars Clubbed.

early night shift workers walked out.

On the other hand the plant's general manager, Edward F. Entwisle, called the strike a "dismal failure" and said only one bar mill was shut down.

The union claimed 3,000 pickets were available for duty.

Efforts to mediate the strike still are going on, declared Thomas Burns, a defense commission representative.

The union is demanding a 25 per cent wage boost, a collective bargaining election, and reinstatement of several hundred workers "indefinitely suspended" by the company. A Bethlehem spokesman said the men were suspended because of "sit-downs," refusal to work, and damage to company property.

Another giant industrial organization, the Ford Motor company at Detroit, faced the threat of a strike at three plants employing nearly 95,000 men.

The CIO-United Automobile workers filed a formal notice with the Michigan labor mediation board of its intention to strike.

However, under Michigan law a 30-day cooling off period must intervene before the strike could take effect. CIO-UAW leaders telegraphed President Roosevelt that they were prepared to adjust the grievances without striking.

Their message charged that the company had "flagrantly" violated an NLRB order desist from labor practices characterized as unfair, including, they asserted, attempts to dissuade employes from joining the union. I. A. Capizzi, Ford counsel, declared none of the union charges was true.

Ford has orders for 4,000 airplane engines, several thousand army trucks, and parts for bombers.

High officials at Washington were reported discussing the possibility of forming an 11-member, non-salaried "supreme court" labor board to determine and publish facts in labor disputes where the regular federal conciliation service was not able to effect a settlement.

At Youngstown, Ohio, a strike of CIO crane operators at the electric-weld plant of Republic Steel corporation was settled.

MACKEY, LUTZ AGREE ON PLAN

Parole Officer and Prosecutor Confer, Decide on Way To Tighten Up on System.

because the woman who offered to befriend him has a son in the reformatory.

The prosecutor also complained that too many inmates from outside the county were being paroled to Mansfielders, creating a possible law enforcement problem.

Mackey defended the division's policy of paroling men to other sections of the state, pointing out that it is often best to place a paroled inmate in a new environment in the process of rehabilitating him.

Mackey said the county would not receive more parolees than it sends to state penal institutions and that a thorough investigation will be conducted in every case before an inmate is released to relatives or friends in Richland county.

"It is important very often that the environmental background of a prisoner being released on parole be completely changed and that he be placed in an entirely different community from the one in which he originally resided in order to make it possible for him to break away from his past habits and associates," Mackey said.

He told Lutz the parole division in the future will provide the prosecutor, sheriff, and police department with complete information about every person paroled in Mansfield and Richland county to help officers in the event a parolee becomes a suspect in a criminal case.

"That proposal seems fair enough to us and we are willing to co-operate in any way possible in the rehabilitation of parolees. I don't think there will be any more trouble," Lutz said.

GET CONTRACTS

Two Mansfield area firms were among the 10 in Ohio awarded navy and war department contracts totaling more than $215,000 today for equipment needed in the defense program.

The Hydraulic Press Manufacturing company, Mt. Gilead, was awarded a $24,070 contract for molding presses and a $26,499 contract for forging machines by the navy, and the Ohio Seamless Tube company, Shelby, was awarded a $2,367 contract for seamless steel by the war department, International News Service dispatches from Washington said.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

60 Farmers Hear AAA Official Talk On Crop Quotas

More than 60 Richland county farmers, including AAA committeemen from most of the 18 townships, heard a discussion this morning at the county AAA headquarters in Mansfield of the federal government's proposal to set up marketing quotas for wheat and corn.

Chris Kainrad, representing the Ohio AAA committee, and members of the county committee, outlined the plan which includes elections in farm communities at which farmers can approve or reject the proposed quotas. Sessions were to continue throughout the day.

A referendum on the wheat quota has been tentatively set for May 31. The corn quota may be voted on in late summer or early fall.

The quotas would limit the amount of wheat and corn farmers can sell this year, penalizing them for any excess grain they sell or market through feeding it to hogs and cattle for sale.

It is designed to reduce the huge surplus of wheat and corn which AAA officials said threatens the government crop loan program and the entire market.

Although Richmond became the capital of Virginia in 1779, it did not receive official classification as a city until 1782.

FAMED POET TO TALK AT GALION

Alfred Noyes Will Be Heard In Lecture Defending Aesthetic Values.

GALION—When Alfred Noyes, well known poet and author arrives in Galion, Thursday, March 6, for a lecture here, Mrs. Noyes will accompany him, according to the latest reports.

Requests for tickets have started coming in from out of town with Mansfield and Bucyrus heading the list.

Bellevue school and teachers expect to be represented by around 30 or 40 people.

Today Alfred Noyes, distinguished English poet, ranks high among those defending aesthetic and religious values against the competing doctrines of materialistic philosophies. His most recent formulation of this credo for modern man is found in his first novel, "No Other Man," which was published in the summer of 1940.

Alfred Noyes was born in England and educated in public schools there. Soon after his graduation from Oxford university he began his literary career with the publication of poems in various leading journals. Well known to many dramatic students is the poem, "The Highwayman."

During the first World war he was barred from active military service because of defective eyes, but worked untiringly for his country with his pen and on the lecture platform. In 1916 he was attached to the Foreign Office of the British government, and was made a commander of the Order of the British Empire in 1928 for his work.

Repeated Nazi bombardments of his home on the Isle of Wight brought Dr. Noyes, his wife and three children into temporary exile in Canada the latter part of the summer, 1940.

SEVEN DIE AS PLANE CRASHES NEAR ATLANTA

Eddie Rickenbacker Among 9 Who Escape After Ship Strikes Trees.

south of the airport.

Brady, who lay injured near the plane's wreckage, kept shouting to rescuers:

"For God's sake, don't light any matches or cigarets. You'll burn us up."

High test gasoline was dripping from the wrecked plane.

The plane first struck among some pines, ripping away one of its metal-covered wings and mowing a path through the trees. It crashed another 150 yards or so where a pine impaled the second wing and the sliced-open cabin skidded to a stop some 50 yards further.

Rosenfeld said the passengers had no indication that anything was wrong until the plane started losing altitude, then the lights went out and the impact came a few seconds later.

Air line officials said the plane came in at 4,000 feet over Stone Mountain some 20 miles east of Atlanta, dropped down to 1,800 over the airport, and reported it was "on the beam." Since the ceiling was only 300 feet because of low clouds and rain, it was decided to bring the sleeper in on a radio triangle and it was not heard from again by the field after it swung away on these invisible guidelines used for landings when weather cuts visibility.

Officials Fly To Investigate Crash

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The civil aeronautics board announced today that four CAB officials will fly this morning to Jonesboro, Ga., to investigate the crash of the Eastern Airlines passenger plane.

Frank Caldwell, chief of the investigation division of the bureau, will head the group. With him will be two assistants and a representative of the legal division, it was announced.

Rickenbacker Began Career as Racer

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, injured in the crash of an Eastern Airlines transport plane near Jonesboro, Ga., vaulted to leadership in the American aviation industry after emerging from the World war as America's "ace of aces."

A student of engineering and drafting, the 51-year-old Rickenbacker, who was born in Columbus, has been associated with automobile and aviation industry for the last three decades.

Rickenbacker went to work in a Columbus tombstone manufactory at the age of 15. He made $6 a week, but he was even then determined to become a racing driver so he quit to take a $4 a week job in a garage.

For years, he served as a racing apprentice and riding mechanic and drove in his first automobile race in 1909. He was in countless spills and misadventures but finally hung up a world's record of 134 miles an hour at Daytona in 1914.

In 1917, while managing a racing team, he quit the dirt tracks to leave for the war zone as one of the personal chauffeurs of General John Pershing.

Transferred to the air corps at Tours, France on Aug. 25, 1917, he later was put on active duty with the 94th aero squadron. In Sept. 1918, "Rick" was promoted to commander of the famous 94th with the rank of captain.

At the end of the war, Rickenbacker returned to the United States, being officially credited with having shot down 25 German planes.

Rickenbacker then became associated with the Rickenbacker Motor company as vice president and director of sales. He then transferred to General Motors, and in 1932 he affiliated with American Airways, Inc., as vice president. On June 1, 1935, he was appointed to his post as general manager of Eastern Air Lines.

Wife of Flier Goes To Scene of Crash

VIOLENCE HITS PICKET LINES

Steel Strike Called at Plant of Bethlehem Company; Cars Clubbed.

early night shift workers walked out.

On the other hand the plant's general manager, Edward F. Entwisle, called the strike a "dismal failure" and said only one bar mill was shut down

The union claimed 3,000 pickets were available for duty.

Efforts to mediate the strike still are going on, declared Thomas Burns, a defense commission representative.

The union is demanding a 25 per cent wage boost, a collective bargaining election, and reinstatement of several hundred workers "indefinitely suspended" by the company. A Bethlehem spokesman said the men were suspended because of "sit-downs," refusal to work, and damage to company property.

Another giant industrial organization, the Ford Motor company at Detroit, faced the threat of a strike at three plants employing nearly 95,000 men.

The CIO-United Automobile workers filed a formal notice with the Michigan labor mediation board of its intention to strike.

However, under Michigan law a 30-day cooling off period must intervene before the strike could take effect. CIO-UAW leaders telegraphed President Roosevelt that they were prepared to adjust the grievances without striking.

Their message charged that the company had "flagrantly" violated an NLRB order desist from labor practices characterized as unfair, including, they asserted, attempts to dissuade employes from joining the union. I. A. Capizzi, Ford counsel, declared none of the union charges was true.

Ford has orders for 4,000 airplane engines, several thousand army trucks, and parts for bombers.

High officials at Washington were reported discussing the possibility of forming an 11-member, non-salaried "supreme court" labor board to determine and publish facts in labor disputes where the regular federal conciliation service was not able to effect a settlement.

At Youngstown, Ohio, a strike of CIO crane operators at the electric-weld plant of Republic Steel corporation was settled.

MACKEY, LUTZ AGREE ON PLAN

Parole Officer and Prosecutor Confer, Decide on Way To Tighten Up on System.

because the woman who offered to befriend him has a son in the reformatory.

The prosecutor also complained that too many inmates from outside the county were being paroled to Mansfielders, creating a possible law enforcement problem.

Mackey defended the division's policy of paroling men to other sections of the state, pointing out that it is often best to place a paroled inmate in a new environment in the process of rehabilitating him.

Mackey said the county would not receive more parolees than it sends to state penal institutions and that a thorough investigation will be conducted in every case before an inmate is released to relatives or friends in Richland county.

"It is important very often that the environmental background of a prisoner being released on parole be completely changed and that he be placed in an entirely different community from the one in which he originally resided in order to make it possible for him to break away from his past habits and associates," Mackey said.

He told Lutz the parole division in the future will provide the prosecutor, sheriff, and police department with complete information about every person paroled in Mansfield and Richland county to help officers in the event a parolee becomes a suspect in a criminal case.

"That proposal seems fair enough to us and we are willing to co-operate in any way possible in the rehabilitation of parolees. I don't think there will be any more trouble," Lutz said.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

60 Farmers Hear AAA Official Talk On Crop Quotas

More than 60 Richland county farmers, including AAA committeemen from most of the 18 townships, heard a discussion this morning at the county AAA headquarters in Mansfield of the federal government's proposal to set up marketing quotas for wheat and corn.

Chris Kainrad, representing the Ohio AAA committee, and members of the county committee, outlined the plan which includes elections in farm communities at which farmers can approve or reject the proposed quotas. Sessions were to continue throughout the day.

A referendum on the wheat quota has been tentatively set for May 31. The corn quota may be voted on in late summer or early fall.

The quotas would limit the amount of wheat and corn farmers can sell this year, penalizing them for any excess grain they sell or market through feeding it to hogs and cattle for sale.

It is designed to reduce the huge surplus of wheat and corn which AAA officials said threatens the government crop loan program and the entire market.

Although Richmond became the capital of Virginia in 1779, it did not receive official classification as a city until 1782.

For Joyful Cough Relief, Try This Home Mixture

Real Relief. Big Saving. So Easy. No Cooking.

This splendid recipe is used by millions every year, because it makes such a dependable, effective remedy for coughs due to colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its soothing effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of very effective and quick-acting cough remedy, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving you delightful relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

REPORT RUSSIA WARNS GERMANY ON TROOP MOVE

back" a reconnaissance unit "believed to be German" in Libya.

In the Far East, Japan ordered her nationals to be prepared to leave French Indo-China and arranged to take what the Japanese press described as "appropriate measures" in the event of a breakdown in peace negotiations between Thailand (Siam) and Indo-China.

Domei, Japanese news agency, said a climax was expected within 48 hours, "with present indications not too optimistic."

Japan has been reported to have sought military and economic concessions from the French colony as the price for mediating the Far East dispute, and has massed warships in the Gulf of Siam.

Ready for action, thousands of Australian troops have been sent to man British defense posts on the Malay border, facing Thailand.

In the war at sea, the Germans painted another black picture for Britain's all-important convoy system.

Berlin asserted that the Nazi Luftwaffe sank or damaged 16 ships totalling 102,500 tons in an attack on a British convoy yesterday 315 miles off the west coast of Ireland. Nine ships were reported sunk, three heavily damaged and four others damaged to a lesser degree.

Hitler's high command further declared that a Nazi speedboat sank a 4,500-ton armed merchantman off the English coast.

The Germans acknowledged meanwhile that "British agitators" may be landing by parachute and by swift motorboats at night in the Netherlands, where Nazi authorities yesterday clamped down military rule to break a series of riots and strikes.

"There is no preventing parachutists from landing," a German spokesman said, "and some boats might reach the coast.

"Under the circumstances, the low countries are a fertile ground for agitators."

The spokesman said occupation of Holland "by God or the devil" would be bound to stir "resentment in some quarters."

Dispatches from Amsterdam said clashes between Dutch civilians and German military police resulted in at least six killed, many injured. The Germans blamed "ringleaders of nightly attacks against the police patrol and a secret Jewish organization."

In the British-German air war, RAF night raiders reported a "very successful" attack on the Rhineland city of Cologne—the 58th—and fire-setting assaults on the docks of Boulogne, France, and Flushing, Holland.

The Germans reported night raids on London and Cardiff, Wales, and asserted that RAF bombers attacking western Germany had "planlessly" dropped their cargoes, mostly on villages, killing a number of civilians and wounding many.

A British communique said the German raids were "on a considerable scale." Thousands of incendiary bombs were reported to have been dropped on Cardiff.

Break Likely to Follow 'Kidnaping'

SOFIA, Bulgaria—(AP)—British quarters here said today the mysterious disappearance of a member of the staff of the Sofia legation may lead to a break in diplomatic relations between Britain and Bulgaria.

The man is Wodin Grenovitch, British passport officer, Russian by birth but a naturalized British subject.

Associates of Grenovitch said they had "good reason to believe" he was taken off a train while en route from Sofia to Istanbul, Turkey, "by Bulgarian police at the behest of the Germans."

The police made no statement regarding his disappearance.

George W. Rendel, British minister to Sofia, was received today by Premier Bogdan Philoff to protest concerning the affair, and later said that the British were "taking an extremely serious view of the situation."

It has long been expected that Britain would sever diplomatic relations with Bulgaria as soon as Nazi troops began crossing the Danube from Rumania.

Legation attaches said they believed there was a definite connection between the disappearance and the looting of the passport control office safe Saturday night. They intimated that papers of "great value" had been sought by the thieves.

Rendel made it clear that he had no wish to terminate a break in diplomatic relations now. At the same time he insisted he would "not leave a single stone unturned" to find Grenovitch. If these efforts fail, he said, he will "know what to do."

airfields which the German air force has taken over.

However, informed opinion in Washington believes the Germans have taken over in Italy mainly to prevent a revolution.

Germany also is known to be taking over the southern part of Italy as a base of operations against the British in the Mediterranean

Presence of large German forces in Sicily has prompted the British Mediterranean fleet to strew the waters between Tunis and Tripoli with mines in the hope of impeding the transportation of any large German forces across that narrow gap of the Mediterranean to the African continent.

Despite this precaution, a substantial number of German shock troops have arrived in Libya, possibly by air, and already have engaged the British around Agebadia. German bombers also are carrying out frequent attacks on newly-won British positions in Libya.

Information received by this government indicates that control of Italy was achieved by Germany while the German propaganda machine was focussing world attention on the Balkans. Informed quarters here are convinced that German threat to the Balkans, while undoubtedly real, was deliberately intensified to cover up the German move into Italy.

"I can truthfully say from my own experience that BEE BEE'S is a wonderful medicine for troubles like mine," says Mr. R. H. Ashcraft who lives at 633 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio. "For the past four years I had suffered from kidney and prostate troubles. I would have to get up so often at night that sleep or rest was impossible and even then the passages were almost unbearable because of the terrible burning and smarting sensation My feet would swell terribly and the sharp pains in my back were so bad and joints and muscles so stiff and sore I could hardly bend over. Bee Bee's has greatly helped this burning and smarting and nightly rising has been so reduced I get more rest and don't feel so tired and worn out. The headaches and nervousness have completely disappeared. My legs and arms have been relieved wonderfully from the agonizing pains and my feet do not swell so badly. The relief I obtained from BEE BEE'S is truly remarkable and I advise everyone suffering from the same condition to start taking BEE BEE'S without delay."

Fugitive on a Dude Ranch + +

By Stephen Payne

(Copyright, 1941)

CHAPTER XXI.

Reluctantly opening one eye and rubbing the other with his left hand, Tony gradually became aware that old Sol was regarding him with decided lack of sympathy. Since a couple of "eye-openers" from the missing bottle would have changed all this, it was too bad he had been deprived of that mellowing influence.

"Lemme sleep, dad. Get me some cold water first."

"No! Daggone, your hide, Tony, I want to talk to you. I want to know how Miss Farnsworth happened to come back to the ranch yesterday afternoon, not with you but with Slim Cummings? Why'd you leave the girl alone yesterday evenin'? She was at the Lodge enjoyin' Flash Taylor's confounded singin', while you was playin' poker."

Tony mumbled. "Oh, that!"

Old Sol snorted, "Don't you 'Oh, that!' me! And don't you, don't you dast neglect the chance of a lifetime! This Marcia Louise Farnsworth—I've read up on the family—will be worth millions some day. Think of that. Play up to her, Tony By dogies, was I your age and single I'd show you how it's done Be romantic. Compliment her, play up to her vanity, flatter her. Sweep her off her feet. And when you get her all stary-eyed, propose and put feelin' into it . . . Tony! You asleep again?"

"No, dad. Where's that cold water?"

"Damn the cold water! Are you goin' to do what I said?"

"Yes. Sure."

"That's the boy . . . We're in a tight fix here on this ranch." Old Sol lowered his voice and looked around stealthily "Mortgaged for more'n it's wurth, cattle and horses, too. Eight per cent interest eatin' us up . . . The price I quoted Barclay would clean up the whole debt . . . He make any noise las' night like he might buy the outfit?"

"Well, no, he didn't dad But you know I don't talk ranches and stock. I wasn't cut out for a cowman and I have visions of bigger things"

Old Sol scrambled off the bed and screwed his flabby face into a knot. "'Visions of bigger things.' Son, I ain't forgot how your 'visions of bigger things' have cost me plenty afore this However there ain't nothin' dishonest about trying to land an heiress and how I'd like to get shed of you!" He stamped from the room.

The first breakfast was entirely over and the ranch hands had gone to work before Nancy put in her appearance 'I must have overslept, she apologized to Ike Skittles "I'm awfully sorry." She smiled most devastatingly

"That's hunky this oncet, Bobbie. Naow, if you'll set the table all pretty for the towerists—Uh? Hello, Chalk? Ridin' early again, hey?"

Sheriff Chalk Crowder, with his big rowelled spurs mingling merrily, had crossed the dining room and was lounging at the kitchen door.

"Yep, ridin' early, Ike Got me 'nother wire from that Wm. F. Waller, answerin' the one I sent him yest'day.

Nancy brushed past the stocky, moonfaced sheriff. One of her hands was laden with dishes for the dining-room table, the other was free. But today no yellow envelope showed above the edge of Crowder's hip pocket. Waiting for his next words, Nancy paused expecting a bombshell. If only she could have gotten a wire off to Wm. F Waller, who was really John William Smith, before he received the one from Crowder!

Old Ike drawled, "Uh-huh? Got the description of that Sturgis jigger naow, eh?"

"Wal, no, I ain't got it yet, Ike."

Nancy walked on to the table, her heart singing. Perhaps Uncle Bil had changed his mind, or—

The sheriff continued. "I told Waller to get a wiggle on him and get the direct dope back to me. Tell me, too, what for he wanted that jasper jailed. This is what he answered, 'Get all details from Marcia Louise Farnsworth at T Slash.' . . . I memorized the message this time, Ike. I ain't goin' to be caught out on a limb again."

"Ner I don't blame you, Chalk," said Ike. "Get details from Miz Farnsworth? I kinder savvy the idear. This Waller is her uncle's secretary, so he writ her the—"

"She's not up yet," called Nancy from the dining room. "I'll wake her for you, sheriff."

Crowder spun around in the doorway. "Don't bother, Miss. I can wait. I don't want to disturb—"

Nancy however was flying across the yard, and old Ike Skittles, recalling how this girl had deftly taken Waller's telegram from the sheriff's pocket only yesterday, something extremely puzzling to him, stepped outside to watch her. The sheriff joined him.

To Nancy's consternation, she saw Mrs Perriwell coming toward her from the Lodge The girl dodged around the ranch woman and went on to Cabin Number One where she rapped loudly. "Marcia! Marcia!"

"Bobbie!" rang Mrs. Perriwell's outraged ejaculation. "Bobbie! You mustn't disturb our guests See here, young woman—" She was hurrying toward Nancy as she spoke.

To make matters still worse for Nancy, Tony had shuffled out of the Lodge and stood with his popeyes fixed on the slender, tawny-haired girl.

"It's all right this once Mrs Perriwell," Nancy explained "The sheriff wants to see Miss Marcia"

"Oh, he does? Well, I'll wake her myself. Go back to your job, Bobbie."

"But," protested Nancy feeling thwarted, wrathful and yet quite helpless. Ruth Perriwell was only a scant ten feet distant, and Tony, obviously much interested, was sauntering toward the cabin.

Suddenly the door swung open and Robert Rowland, sans makeup, in gorgeous lounging pajamas, appeared, "Hello—what—"

"I must speak to you alone," Nancy whispered desperately. 'Think of something to say so we can manage it"

"Good morning, Miss Farnsworth?" Thus Mrs Perriwell in her "guest" voice "Bobbie" in an entirely different tone, "Apologize to the young lady and take yourself off"

"Yes," added Tony. "Scram, and make it snappy!"

Nancy was having a bad time of it But now Roberta's haughty voice fell soothingly on her burning ears "Why should Bobbie scram or apologize? I asked the girl to get me out early. That okay, Mrs. Perriwell?"

"Why — why, certainly, Miss Farnsworth," sputtered Mrs Perriwell, and Nancy rather enjoyed the ranchwoman's confusion. "Yet Bobbie said the sheriff—"

"That's right," Nancy put in adroitly "The sheriff's coming reminded me that I already had orders to wake Miss Farnsworth."

"So don't blame Bobbie" Roberta admonished coolly. "By the way, Mrs. Perriwell, now that Bobbie's here, can't you let her help me with my—my hair? 'Twill only take a few jiffies"

"Of course, Miss Farnsworth, if you wish . . . Come along with me, Tony"

Tony went away with his mother, looking back with the sly expression of a coyote on his unhandsome face.

Nancy heard Roberta's throaty, scared whisper: "What the dickens does the sheriff want? Have I done something he could nab me for" Or are your masks going to be torn off 'smorning?"

Money For Beauty Good Investment

By MME. QUI VIVE

Years ago there were hair dressing parlors but not many of them. A woman had her hair dressed when she got married, or attended some grand social event. A manicure was an excitement. Facial treatments were unheard of. Electroiysis, for the removal of superfluous facial fuzzers, was just being talked about. The idea that hair could be permanently waved brought sneers to pretty noses. Beautifying was not any too respectable.

It is estimated that at the present time the sales of cosmetics and the charges for beauty treatments in Uncle Sam's domain total up to more than $600,000,000 a year. Fancy what our puritan mothers would have thought about that. On Sunday mornings before going to church they sneaked a little corn starch to remove the shine from their saintly noses. And felt pretty wicked when they did it.

Evidently the old-fashioned notion that cosmetics were the ruination of healthy complexions is the merry bunkum. Women paint and powder, smear on the creams, use fragrant bottled stuff, and a poor complexion is seldom seen. Doctors used to protest against cosmetics, but now they've done a turnabout. They know that if a woman looks well, she feels well. If they find a poor discouraged soul who believes that life has her beaten they tell her to trundle herself to a beauty shop, have the whole works.

Believe it or not, thirty years ago some women wore veils when they sneaked into beauty shops. Afraid the neighbors would find out and talk about them. Did you ever hear of anything so silly? Gosh the world may be crazy, but in some ways it is stepping.

Every year beauty shops improve in every way. The dumbest customers demand scrupulously clean linens, notice if sterilizers are on the job for combs, brushes, manicuring instruments. No slipshod attention is tolerated. Many states have passed several legislative restrictions concerning beauteries. The matter of sanitation is carefully looked into. Operators go through a long term of training, must have licenses.

Shop owners are on their toes. Unless they have clean quarters and first class equipment, they won't get the business. Charlatans have been blotted out of the beauty picture.

Women no longer expect speedy rejuvenation; they aren't that gullible. Facial and scalp treatments are based on scientific principles. The functions of the skin, muscles and tissues are stimulated by means of safe applications, electrical appliances, massage.

Some time ago a magazine writer deplored the fact that there are no longer any famous beauties. We yawn at that statement. Too much competition. A good-looking woman is no excitement. The plain woman is the exception. And, even if she is plain, she can develop a dress sense, be chic and stand among the elect.

The millions spent in the defense of good looks are well invested. They bring returns in the form of happiness and self-respect.

There were 35,880 major crimes in New York state in 1940 compared with 38,768 the year before.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

I SMILED to myself at Carolyn's question, being careful to see that she did not guess the irrepressible little thrill of malice with which I heard it.

It was not the words which gratified me as much as the tone. A few minutes earlier I knew that she would have been glad of the prospect of a long ride alone with Dicky, for she would have figured that she would be able to charm him into carelessness concerning her movements. But after his ruthless "deflation of her colossal ego," as he put it, she dreaded being alone with him.

"Of course I'm going along," I told her. "And it won't be long now until we're home. I see Uncle Dicky coming back."

She did not turn her head and I guessed that she was steeling herself against the storm of questions that probably awaited her.

"Don't forget that headache, Carolyn," I advised her with a smile. "Speak about it the minute you get inside the house. I'll bolster your story."

"Thank you," she said with more animation than she had yet displayed. And then Dicky was climbing into the car.

"All set," he said. "Send her along."

He volunteered no information concerning the police officers. Carolyn, I guessed, did not dare to ask him anything, and I forbore any questions as I sent the car along the road and then turned into a long lane bordered on either side with stately birch trees. It is the approach to the Brixton country house of which Samuel Brixton is inordinately proud, and I knew that the prospect of losing it upon the occasion that he faced bankruptcy was one of his most poignant fears.

As I brought the car to a halt in front of the wide pillared veranda, my mind went swiftly back to that time of horror, when Samuel Brixton, whose life had been chequered by many adventures, some of them sinister, but all filled with danger, had been unable to face the financial ruin that seemed inevitable, and had been saved from a suicide's death only by a matter of minutes.

It has been Robert Savarin's legacy to Lillian, made out to me, that had saved Samuel Brixton, for although Lillian knows nothing as yet of the provision made for her by the brilliant artist who loved her so loyally, I was sure that she would be willing I should use part of it, legally my own, to save her childhood friend, Helena Brixton, from the stark poverty which would have followed her husband's suicide and the aftermath of ruin.

Neither Helena nor her children have ever learned of the part I played in that last minute salvaging of the Brixton fortunes. But Samuel Brixton has never forgotten, and while his payments of his loan have been prompt and large, they have been dwarfed by the enthusiastic gratitude which he has accorded me ever since. I know that if I ever need aid of any kind, Samuel Brixton will be eager and willing to come to my assistance.

For a second or two following our arrival there was no sign of life behind the big double doors which lead from the center of the veranda to the hall. Dicky was climbing down from the car preparatory to going up on the veranda, when Samuel Brixton threw open the doors and hurried out.

"Well! bless my soul!" he ejaculated, "the old Dicky-bird in person! And Mrs. Graham, too! What good wind blew you in? Helena!" He turned to the door. 'Helena!" he called again. "Helena! Come out and see who's here!"

I noticed that he did not call Ronald, and wondered at the omission. I noticed also that he apparently did not see Carolyn, but I did not wonder at that, for she was crouched in a corner of the back seat, with her hands over her eyes, patently simulating the headache I had advised as camouflage for her reluctance to answer questions.

But Dicky, whether from carelessness, or from some definite wish to have Samuel Brixton cognizant of his daughter's presence, announced her presence at once.

"You have another visitor," he said. "Look in our tonneau and see what we brought you!"

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, Feb. 28.

The astral influences bearing rule on this day suggest procedures of a bold and original nature, with the abandonment of old habits and customs as well as the orthodox way of doing things. Substitute modern and advanced methods rather than the traditional. It should be a suitable time for engineering new and important projects, under a high pressure and energetic impulse, but be not carried beyond bounds by too impulsive, tempestuous and excitable or rash behavior. This may bring danger of defeat by over-doing as well as physical hazards and upsets. Guard against excesses and extravagance and all will be well.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is should be confronted by a year of outstanding opportunity for innovation, re-orientation, with swinging away from old customs, ideas and traditions in favor of new and progressive ways and means to fit into modern patterns. This is in constructive and creative channels, where highly quickened energies and enlightened mentality point to success and progress. However some curb must be kept on the urges and impulses lest being carried into strife, excitement or other excessive expression there be defeat and loss.

A child born on this day may be splendidly talented, and ambitious, intellectual, resourceful and energetic, although prone to be carried to excess by impetuosity, high temper, passion and pugnacity. Early discipline might assist to future brilliant achievement.

The scenic wonders of Yellowstone park were first made known by a frontiersman named John Colter.

"The Authority on Authorities"

HIDE YOUR INTENTIONS

ONE fundamental of strategy, in any kind of contest, is to conceal your intentions, to keep the enemy from knowing what you are preparing to do. Carried to high degree, this amounts to deliberately misleading him and making him definitely count on you for something entirely different from your true plan. If you can make him expect just the reverse of what you intend to try, then you have attained the zenith in this respect—or the pinnacle, if you prefer that term.

♠ A 4 2 ♥ K Q J 7 ♦ 9 5 ♣ K Q 6 2	W. N. E. S.	♠ K 3 ♥ 9 6 3 ♦ J 8 7 4 2 ♣ A J 4
	♠ J 6 5 ♥ 5 4 2 ♦ K Q ♣ 10 9 8 7 5

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	1 ♠	1 NT	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	Pass	2 ♠

This was in a duplicate tournament, and South didn't like to see the opponents get away with playing the hand at their little 2-Heart contract, hence his 2-Spade call which tried the bidding from dying.

North was a demure little lady whose husband is known as one of the game's stars, but whose opponents did not expect anything very tricky from her. So, after East led the heart 9 to the J and A, she went to the dummy with the diamond 3 to the Q and led the spade 6 to the Q and K. East knew she was trying to drop the trumps. Refusing to oblige her with a trump return, he fired back a heart. West took two tricks in that suit and shifted to the club K. East signaling for a repeat with the J. The Q then was ruffed, the diamond K scored, a third round club was ruffed, the diamond 10 ruffed with the spade J and over-ruffed by the A. West returned the heart 7, ruffed by the spade 9. The spade 10 and diamond A then accounted for the last two tricks.

By leading spades herself, she had kept the opponents from leading them. Had they done so, when they got in, and taken out the dummy's three trumps, she would have had to lose six tricks, two in spades, two in hearts and one each in the minors. As it was her ruff of the diamond 10 saved a trick and made the contract, even though West over-ruffed with the trump A, which would have taken a trick anyway.

Tomorrow's Problem.

	♠ 8 5 ♥ A K Q J 4 ♦ A Q ♣ A 9 6 3
♠ Q J 9 4 2 ♥ 10 7 3 ♦ J 10 8 6 3 ♣ None	W. N. E. S.	♠ A K 10 7 ♥ 8 6 5 ♦ K 9 5 2 ♣ 10 7
	♠ 6 3 ♥ 9 2 ♦ 7 4 ♣ K Q J 8 5 4 2

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

With North and South reckoning they are about 1,000 points behind in a team match, with just three deals to go, what is the best bidding of this hand by them in an effort to get a "swing" and catch up?

AUTO CLUB SET TO ISSUE 1941 LICENSE PLATES

12,467 Pairs of Tags To Be Issued To Mansfielders Starting Saturday.

Mansfielders will buy approximately 12,467 pairs of license plates for passenger cars at the Automobile club, 66 North Mulberry street, during the annual sale of tags which opens Saturday at 8:30 a. m. The club will be open until 5 p. m., according to Frank Beverstock, secretary.

A total of 48 deputy registrars will sell plates in the Mansfield district, which includes Richland and Ashland counties as well as parts of Crawford, Wayne, Holmes, Huron, Knox and Morrow counties.

License plate series starting with VX and continuing through VY and VZ will be on sale next week at the Automobile club, Beverstock asserted The club expects to sell about two series, 1898 plates a week There are 949 plates in a series

Series starting with WA, WB, WC will be sold after the V—series are exhausted, Beverstock said.

Colors for the plates this year are a maroon background with white numerals

The deadline for the purchase of plates is April 1. The Automobile club will be open every Saturday until 5 p m during March, Beverstock indicated

WPA CLASSES POLISH SKILL

Freshening School Opens Its Doors at Midnight, Students Paid.

KANSAS CITY, Mo —(U P)—It's an unusual school, this WPA "freshening college"

For the most part, students are in their 30's They come to class at midnight, they get paid for studying, and an absence from the classroom usually indicates success

The school is sponsored by the WPA and the Kansas City school board, to aid the national defense program and unemployed workers. Its instructors are expert machinists, die and tool makers, carpenters, masons. Its students are those who have been unemployed in their chosen trade so long that a freshening course is needed before they can fill a place in industry successfully.

The courses are based on a 10-week intensive training schedule, but if the student feels qualified and gets a job before he completes the course, the instructors are glad to see him go. Sometimes they keep those enrolled for additional training.

Now 145 machinists, welders, carpenters, mechanics and electricians are attending the midnight-to-morning classes, which meet from 4 p. m. to midnight Almost all are from WPA projects, although a few tradesmen, who are unemployed or in temporary jobs, are attending

Bryce Poe, the school's supervisor, believes almost all students will receive jobs in defense industries upon "graduation"

As important as the economical value to students, the teachers believe, is the psychological "lift" they get from working once again in familiar occupations with machinery with which they are acquainted

"We are working an inferiority complex out of most of the enrollees," said R O. Sayner an instructor "Most of them have been depressed and feeling sorry for themselves because they were unable to find jobs in their chosen work during the depression"

CAPTURE LION

CCC Enrollees Get Excitement on Hunting Trip.

MEEKER, Colo —(INS)—Four city boys who had never seen a wild animal outside a zoo before they joined the Civilian Conservation Corps have a real story to tell about their first encounter with a full-grown mountain lion

The boys—Bert Kelm Flo Long, Jesse Jones and Thomas Duncan—all enrollees at the Meeker CCC Camp crossed the lion's trail in the woods not far from the camp Although without any kind of weapon they tracked the animal for several miles with the aid of two dogs and finally treed it

While Kelm returned to the camp for help the three other youths and the dogs remained at the foot of the tree A camp foreman and another man returned with Kelm and shot the lion out of the tree

The boys are now waiting for the $50 state bounty for the cat

DANES AID FINNS

COPENHAGEN (AP) The Finnish Field Marshal Mannerheim will get his special porridge made of cracked buckwheat after all

It was recommended as part of his diet by physicians but the war halted importation from England and America Finns living in Denmark heard about the difficulty, bought up the small quantities available here and sent it to him

FALL BACK ON GRAPE SUGAR

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Grape sugar sold in liquid form has replaced German beet sugar in Swiss war economy and saved many Swiss and Swiss bees from suffering a sugar shortage.

Steve, the Joker, Has Anna's Thanks For 10 Happy Days

GARY, W. Va. — (AP) — It was Steve who brought about "The Affaire Sklepovich"

Steve is the 18-year-old brother of Anna Sklepovich who received a phony invitation to visit President Roosevelt. Anna, of course, saw the president anyway, and became a celebrity.

Steve (who smiles when he denies it) unsealed a routine letter from the White House acknowledging 14-year-old Anna's greeting to the president, whose birthday is the same as Anna's. As a postscript, Steve penned: "We would like to have you come to the White House and meet the President."

Anna went, in good faith White House aides challenged the authenticity of the invitation, but Mr. Roosevelt saw her anyway, and the First Lady gave her a piece of birthday cake. Anna also went to New York and did a radio broadcast.

Back with her family, in this small mining community, Anna exulted over "the happiest 10 days of my life."

Thanks to Steve, the practical joker.

FINGERPRINTED

5,700 Baldwin Employes Get Pictures Taken.

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— Demonstration of the lengths to which Uncle Sam is going to protect secrets of the national defense is well illustrated by measures adopted at the sprawling Baldwin Locomotive Works at nearby Eddystone. The company has more than $35,000,000 in defense contracts.

All of the 5,700 employes are being fingerprinted and photographed. Each worker carries a badge containing his picture. In addition questionnaires are being sent to all workers, asking if they ever served a foreign power.

The firm has strung extra barbed wire along the top of a high fence completely surrounding the plant and, as another precaution, plainclothes state policemen inspect the place twice a week.

You Can't Print That!

(A compendium of tales that can't be told with names, because they're too true to print. If you see in them any resemblance to actual persons, living or dead—you've probably guessed right!)

* * *

ONE OF the best known members of our fancier nocturnal set is Katie, a blond glamor girl whose best days are behind her. Far behind her, because she was a publicized beauty before World war I. Now she has grown children.

Kilgallen.

But in the old days, lads from all over the globe sought her favors, and covered her with costly gems.

She liked emeralds best, and in time had a collection of them that was worth several fortunes. But as the years rolled by, her allure decreased and so did the emerald donations. Then they stopped coming altogether.

Since then, Katie has subsisted by hocking her emeralds, one by one, and substituting fakes—until this winter she was down to her last jewel. People got wise.

In a tavern one cocktail time, Katie overheard somebody say she was broke—so she decided to show 'em. A few nights later she tossed a party for 25 at one of the most expensive boites.

The "front" worked. Everyone could see that the wine—at $15 a bottle—was flowing freely, and the food was plenty fancy. Katie must be back in the money, said the mob.

What the mob doesn't know is this: on the day after the party, the bill (for $635) was sent to Prince (——) a foreign lad, visiting here, and he, not knowing what else to do, paid it.

But you can't print that. It would embarrass the prince, who is a gentleman.

* * *

Since Broadway was lit by gas lamps there hasn't been a great comedy star more sincerely loved and more universally respected than Daniel. His kindly, humorous face and graying hair have warmed the hearts of firstnighters.

Daniel looks like the kind of gent who carries his dimes in a change purse, and wears old-fashioned nightshirts. And until recently, that's been more or less a picture of his life.

But his wife, whom he adored, has been dead for some time, and Daniel has grown lonely with the years.

Recently, Daniel has been wooing a blond, curly-haired lass who is younger than any of his own offsprings.

He takes her everywhere, and his friends, who don't know whether she's planning to "take him over" or turn him down are growing gray, because Daniel, who used to chat about grandchildren, cutaways and yesterday—is now talking about sports jackets, diamond bracelets, and marriage to an 18-year-old!

But you can't print that. People would laugh at old Dan and those who didn't laugh would cry in pity over the loneliness of the old fellow reaching for whatever fleeting happines he can grasp.

* * *

Just a few seasons back, a small group of our best known cafe society lads used to make an occasional dishonest dollar by stealing jewelry from their friends. They'd go to a party, pick up a bracelet or a cigaret case there—and hock it. The owners usually got the stuff back, because it was insured, and they said nothing, not liking the scandal.

But one lad, whom we will call Tony, got so good at the "lifting" that people stopped inviting him for cocktails. Pickin's became very lean.

Tony didn't worry much about it. He headed for Hollywood where he figured business should be better.

And it was. He did fine, for a while. But one night he got caught and he was sent to the bastille.

His girl, Mary, was horrified, but he convinced her the whole thing was a mistake. Mary believed him and bailed him out.

The experience taught Tony a lesson and he reformed. He got a job (or rather she got it for him) in one of the studios, and he rose to a pretty important production post. He married Mary—and they're living very happily.

They came to New York recently, and one day, while Mary was shopping, some of Tony's pals come up to lift a drink for old time's sake. Tony was glad to see them.

Until they left. Tony discovered that they had walked out with all of Mary's jewelry—including the bracelets he had bought her!

But you can't print that. It would humiliate Tony. After all, he's respectable now. And besides—the irony of it!

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD — Top talent in Hollywood still can wash down its caviar with champagne (if so inclined) and so far, despite governmental tax takes, hasn't had to go on war rations.

The war, if anything, has made more secure the status of the industry's—meaning the public's—favored darlings. Critics may howl at the notion of a picture star drawing more per picture than the president of the United States per year, but as long as the fans favor their favorites with cash on the line the studios will bid high.

Objective of studio war strategy is to compensate in the domestic market for losses abroad. The domestic market long has shown a fondness for stars, preferably in quantity. In the trade a movie's potential earning capacity is invariably reckoned in proportion to the strength of the "marquee names" it offers. The foreign market, when there was one, was equally insistent on being lured into the theater by "names," but was rated more lenient in this respect than the American. In all markets the exceptional film usually manages to find an audience, regardless of the actors. Yet—

To find that audience quickly, to guarantee its maximum size, Hollywood never has found a substitute for the star system. If a given star costs $100,000, but adds a half-million to a picture's gross, the producer would be loco to "economize" on him. The producers aren't being loco — they're using Rooney, Gable, Power and the others with no qualms about the princely pittances they command.

Another factor, even more potent, is keeping the salary scale of the top-fighters high. That is the end of block-booking, the substitution, under the consent decree springing from federal anti-trust action, of the "package-of-five" scheme. This means that exhibitors no longer are required to buy a studio's entire output (or a large portion thereof) in order to obtain the cream.

Instead, studios may sell no more than five films in a group. Result: Sharply increased competition, and sharply increased demand for star names to lure the showmen. Result in Hollywood: More stars are asking—and getting—the right to sell their services outside their home lots. For the same reason the top producers, directors, writers are in clover.

With an eye to future economy, however, the lots once more are passing out contracts to newcomers.

A youngster like Linda Darnell more than pays the freight for the unsuccessful candidates for stardom. Drawing about $500 a week until recently, she justified a score or more of $75 or $100 stock girls. Even with "adjustments" in her contract, she represents an economical investment.

DEATH CLOSES LONG CAREER OF GENERAL LIGHT

Soldier Who Set Up Ohio Draft Machinery Succumbs In Toledo Hospital.

(By United Press)

TOLEDO — The colorful career of the No. 1 soldier in Ohio was ended today.

Easy-going, pipe-loving Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light, 58-year-old state selective service director, died suddenly last night at a Toledo hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage. General Light was in Toledo to address an American Legion meeting.

Gov. John W. Bricker led the state in grieving the loss of the "soldier's soldier." The governor heaped praises on the man who set up Ohio's tremendous draft machinery and kept it operating smoothly.

"General Light was a great soldier, always a gentleman and a fine public servant," he said.

General Light had been installed as Ohio's adjutant general by Bricker in 1939. The genial general was not allowed to assume the duties as active commander of the 37th division, Ohio National Guard, at Camp Shelby, Miss., last fall, because of several physical disabilities that resulted in his rejection for federal service.

The general was born at Columbus Grove, Putnam county, Feb. 22, 1883. He enlisted as a buck private in the Ohio National Guard in 1899 and advanced steadily until he was appointed to the highest rank in the state militia—major general—in 1936.

His military career was star-studded. He served with distinction in the World war.

In 1916 he resigned his majorship in the Ohio guard to enlist as a private in Uncle Sam's regular army when the United States entered the war.

He was re-commissioned a major and was made adjutant of the 147th infantry brigade of the 37th Division in June, 1917. He sailed for France in 1918 and saw service in the Meuse-Argonne and Ypres-Lys sectors.

In 1936, after he had advanced consistently up the military ladder, he was made a major general and placed in command of the 37th division.

General Light was commander of the troops Gov. Martin L. Davey dispatched to the "little steel" strike in 1937. He was assigned to supervise troops sent to the Ohio penitentiary in 1935 during a change in administration.

General Light is survived by his widow, Nina; a daughter, Mrs. Holland J. Nagle, and a brother, Guy B., all of Toledo.

A military funeral will be held for Light at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery here.

WIDOW, 81, DIES

Mrs. Idella E. Werts Succumbs at Home of Daughter.

A lingering illness ended this morning in the death of Mrs. Idella E. Werts, 81, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Beal, on Beal road. Mrs. Werts was the widow of the late William Werts.

A member of the Universalist church in Mt. Gilead, Mrs. Werts was born in Morrow county, Aug. 26, 1860. She came to Mansfield 28 years ago.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William Beal, Mansfield, one granddaughter and one great grand-daughter.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Rev. James L. Boyer will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial park.

CLEARS OFFICER

Coroner Says Fatal Shooting of Sullivan Youth Was Justified.

The slaying of Lyle Van Buskirk of Sullivan, by a Columbus patrolman two weeks ago was ruled "justifiable" today by Franklin County Coroner Edward E. Smith, Associated Press dispatches from Columbus said.

The 19-year-old special Ohio State university student was shot by Patrolman Earl Rambo Feb. 13 in downtown Columbus after the officer responded to a burglar alarm.

WAITER PAYS FOR MURDERS

Martins Ferry Waiter Goes To Electric Chair After Spaghetti Supper.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— William John Sevastis, 64-year-old Greek waiter of Martins Ferry, today had paid with his life for the murder or his employer and two other men in a restaurant in the Ohio river town last May.

He was calmly led to the death chamber in Ohio penitentiary and placed in the electric chair shortly after 8 p. m. last night. Dr. J. B. C. Eckstrom, prison physician, pronounced him dead at 8:15.

The native of Greece went to the chamber silently and unemotionally. He said not a word as he was strapped in the chair and the electrodes adjusted.

Sevastis was only "slightly nervous" throughout the day, according to Warden Frank D. Henderson. As his last meal, he had spaghetta a la Caruso, veal meatballs, shredded head lettuce with olive oil, Italian bread and butter, spumoni ice cream, cake and coffee.

The Martin Ferry waiter was found guilty by a three judge court at St. Clairsville of the fatal shooting of Mike Manos, following an argument over salary in his employer's restaurant. Although, two other men died of bullet wounds and two others were wounded when Sevastis fired wildly, he was tried only for the slaying of Manos.

ILLNESS OF 2 MONTHS FATAL

Albert Walker, 42, resident of Mansfield for the past 22 years, died in General hospital last night following an illness of two months. He resided at 146 North Adams street.

A native of Olive Branch, Miss., he was formerly employed at the Empire Sheet and Tin Plate company, and for the past five years had worked at Humphryes Manufacturing company.

Surviving are his widow, Dennie; two stepdaughters, Fannie May Otey and Katherine Otey, both of Mansfield, and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Olive Branch.

The body is at the Geiger funeral home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

E. O. RILEY DIES

Former Railroad Worker Succumbs at Home In Bucyrus.

BUCYRUS—Edward O'Riley, 75, died at his home early today after a brief illness. He was born in Galion in 1865, and until retirement worked as a section hand for the Big Four railroad. He was unmarried. There are no survivors.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the Henderson and Lutz funeral home. Rev. A. E. Manton will officiate and burial will be at Broken Sword cemetery.

SUICIDE REPORTED

OCALA, Fla.—(AP)—Dr. Carl E. Evans, physician, of 16 West Locust street, Newark, killed himself in a local hotel last night, Policeman John E. Williams reported today.

HERE'S PARADOX FOR HISTORY: WINS ELECTION, LOSES OFFICE

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—The state's archives will pose this paradox for the historians:

Miss Gladys E. Davis, Democrat, was elected a member of the house of representatives from Scioto county, yet—

Orin L. Graves, Republican, actually received the office.

Here's the explanation:

The Scioto county election board, in a conference with Secretary of State John E. Sweeney yesterday, agreed to correct its records and certify Nov. 5 election records showing Miss Davis was elected by 88 votes.

The board mistake had deprived the young woman of 100 votes in its original compilation of returns.

Yesterday's action, however, apparently means nothing to Miss Davis because the Ohio house of representatives last week declared Graves was victor and seated him. The Republican-controlled membership found Miss Davis failed to follow the proper procedure in appealing from the board's mistake.

The secretary of state on Jan. 11 ordered the board to correct the error, but two Republican members of the board came to the inauguration in Columbus on Jan. 13, aid before they could act on the secretary's instructions the house of representatives took charge of the election dispute.

C. L. DAVIS DIES

Ex-Richland County Truant Officer Succumbs.

GALION—Following an illness of nine weeks, Charles L. Davis, 69, died Wednesday evening at his home. He was born in Morrow county in 1872, and on Nov. 6, 1895 was married to Euphrasia Stitt, who preceded him in death in 1926.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Alva Daugherty of Lexington, Blanche and May, at home and a brother, Dr. E. F. Davis of Detroit.

Mr. Davis moved to Bucyrus six years ago from Ontario. He was a truant officer of Richland county schools before his retirement. His affiliation was with the Ontario Community church.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Ontario church in charge of Rev. Thompson. Burial will be in Ontario cemetery.

Friends may call at the family home Friday and Saturday. The family requested that flowers be omitted.

RITES FRIDAY FOR MISS GUILE

Long Illness Fatal To Resident of New London.

NEW LONDON — Funeral services will be held here Friday at 2:30 p. m. for Miss Flora Guile, 76, who died at her home here Tuesday after a long illness.

Services will be held at the Sackett funeral home with Rev. G. L. Kettenring in charge. Burial will be in Grove street cemetery.

Miss Guile had lived in New London for 65 years. She was employed at the C. E. Ward company for 29 years. She was a native of Mt. Morris, N. Y.

A sister, Mrs. G. A. Barrett, survives. A twin sister preceded her in death six years ago.

Laff-a-Day

"If you're going home to your mother, I'm going, too. I need some good home-cooked meals!"

Police Chief Meade K. Bates has been attempting to obtain venetian blinds for his office the past year but every time he mentions it to Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton, the latter reminds him of the condition of the office of the police chief at Zanesville. The office there doesn't even have shades on the windows. This morning the chief stopped Identification Officer E. C. Fuller when he wanted some new camera equipment, reminding him that the "purse strings are closed" and that the $22 needed for the equipment would be enough to buy the blinds for his office.

Richland county youths who want to to to army camps with their buddies at home may be able to arrange it if they notify their selective boards in time. Board clerks said youths whose draft numbers will be called within the next few weeks can arrange to go with friends leaving earlier if they volunteer in time to be examined and placed in specific groups. Many of the requests for placements with friends in groups leaving for camp come too late to enable draft boards to place them together, clerks said.

* * *

Dr. A. Tootikian, optometrist, was working busily in his office when he heard a suspicious sound in an outer office. So he peered into the outer office to check. His surprise was considerable when he saw a fountain of water spraying the floor. A water pipe, having trouble with the cold weather, had sprung a leak, and was rapidly turning the office into a lake.

* * *

Seems like this is an opportunity for the column to do its good deed for the day as well as some reader's chance to make pretty little Idella Miller of 345½ Grace avenue happy again. Idella, who attends junior high school, read about the little dog who followed a News-Journal reporter home from Major Sedley Peck's lecture the other night. She's sure the little 10-week-old black and white hound pup who has "black eyes and ears and black freckles around his nose and a wavy tail" is her "Duke," after comparing notes with the reporter. Duke abandoned the reporter at Fourth and Mulberry so if he has adopted anyone else will you please call Idella at Poplar 4007?

ADMIRAL SAYS PRESSURE ON EVERYWHERE

Want 275 Destroyers Ready For Use By End of 1943; Estimates Bettered.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The navy speeded shipbuilding today so that by the end of 1943 it will have at least 275 destroyers available for active duty.

Under a step-up in ship construction, which Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, told a house committee was the result of "pressure we have been applying everywhere," the navy planned to commission 55 more destroyers than originally contemplated in a program extending to Dec. 31, 1943.

A total of 160 destroyers now are distributed among the Pacific, Atlantic and Caribbean fleets. Fifteen more are to be completed by the end of the year, and 45 by the end of 1942. The navy declined to publish figures on the number to be turned out under the regular 1943 program. But with the 55 "added starters," the minimum number scheduled to join the fleets between now and Jan. 1, 1944, is 115.

The speed-up in destroyer construction—many will be delivered a year in advance of scheduled completion dates—led to renewed speculation on whether the United States would send more of them to Great Britian. The British already have obtained 50 over-age U. S. destroyers in return for rights to lease naval bases in the Atlantic.

In testimony before a house appropriations sub-committee on legislation providing funds for construction of the destroyer-building program, Admiral Stark said dispatch of more destroyers to Britain would not be in line "at the moment" with our own program. But he added that war is "full of surprises" and "we cannot afford to tie our hands or make statements now as to what we will or will not do."

Navy officials revealed that efforts to get a huge destroyer output by the end of 1943 had involved the scrapping of plans for construction of many heavy 2,100-ton destroyers, under contract They planned, instead, to concentrate on the old-style 1-630-ton vessels.

Rear Admiral Samuel M. Robinson, crief of the bureau of ships, told the house committee that the 1,630-ton vessel is not as effective as the larger ship, "but the balance between the two is probably about right."

Steel Worker Gets 13 Years In Pen For Kidnapings

NEW PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Homer R. McMerrell, 29-year-old Massillon steel worker, must serve at least 13 years in Ohio penitentiary for kidnaping and criminally assaulting three Tuscarawas county women.

McMerrell collapsed yesterday when Common Pleas Judge E. E. Lindsey pronounced sentence.

Judge Lindsey sentenced him to five to 30 years on each of three kidnaping counts, three to 20 years on an attack count and one to 15 years on an attempted attack charge. The court decreed part of the sentences would run concurrently, making the minimum term 13 years.

McMerrell was arrested Oct. 26 when one of his victims, a housemaid, led him into a police trap.

WEATHER HITS WORK ON TWO ROAD PROJECTS

Newville-Pleasant Hill Job Is Stopped; Another To Halt Next Week, Sword Says.

Because of unfavorable weather, construction work on the Newville-Pleasant Hill road in Butler township had been suspended today and work on the Plymouth-Springmill road will be halted next Tuesday, County Engineer Howard Sword said today.

Suspension of the Plymouth-Springmill road project will drop county WPA road and bridge work to the lowest mark in recent years, the engineer said. Only 25 men will be left on county-sponsored WPA work. They will be on bridge projects which are not seriously affected by cold weather.

He said work on the Pleasant Hill road, being constructed by the federal government, probably will not be resumed for 45 or 60 days. Bridges and grading on the road have been completed but workers must await warmer weather before surfacing the road, Sword said.

The road will be constructed as a new route in the Pleasant Hill dam area and turned over to the county for maintenance.

Work on the Plymouth-Springmill road project will be resumed when the weather is warmer, Workmen on the job probably will be shifted to the South Boulevards sewer project, Sword said.

NO MORE SECRETS

OSLO, Norway—(AP)—The oath of secrecy taken by priests, solicitors, doctors and civil officials has been cancelled "in the interests of state" by John Lie, Norwegian minister of justice.

Your Federal Income Tax

No. 27

Deduction for Tax on Motor Gas.

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure, those maintenance and operating expenses which constitute allowable deductions for federal income-tax purposes should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time the car is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction, for federal income-tax purposes, would be $600.

In general, taxes are deductible only by the person upon whom they are imposed and by whom they are paid. If a law imposing a tax on gasoline by its terms imposes the tax on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for federal income-tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as is required by the regulations. The federal gasoline tax is not deductible by the consumer. The taxpayer may ascertain whether a state gasoline tax is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes, the tax may be regarded as a part of the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but in such case the gasoline tax cannot be deducted separately as a tax under the item of taxes.

Postal revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940, reached an all-time record of $766,948,000.

CENSOR UNCORKS NOTE IN BOTTLE

WINCHESTER, Va.—(AP)—The steamer Birmingham City was headed westward in mid-Atlantic on Aug. 29, 1939, when Claude M. Henkel, jr., penned a note to Miss Virginia C. Russell of Winchester, sealed it in a bottle and tossed it over the rail.

The letter was delivered on St. Valentine's Day, 1941, marked "opened by censor." It washed ashore at Lerwick, Shetland Islands, Jan. 4.

Argentina has the greatest railroad mileage of any South American country.
